New Polling Booths Popular

Prefabricated, standardized polling booths, in use for the first time in Victoria, were well accepted today by city voters. Of simple, inexpensive design, they can be used with complete privacy by four persons at once. This picture was taken at Memorial Hall where steady stream of voters kept election workers busy. WINNIPEG (CP) — Manitobans put their Liberal-Progressive government back into office Monday in a provincial election that saw the Social Credit Party crushed in its second bid for power in Manitoba in 17 years.

In a contest that was as quiet as the campaign that preceded it, the electors returned Premier Douglas Campbell's administration with virtually the same majority that it enjoyed in the last legislature, adding another term to the party's 30 years of dominance in Manitoba politics.

Perhaps as significant as the government's victory was the defeat of the Social Credit group, with its possible and imponderable effects on the British Columbia provincial election today and the federal election later this year.

The Social Crediters first tried to gain power in the 1936 general election, but elected only five members, joined in coalition with the government in the early 1940's, elected two in 1945, by-passed the 1949 election and then fielded 42 candidates in this contest.

Latest results from Monday's voting showed this party standing, with the number of ridings in which parties were leading in brackets:

Liberal-Progressives 24 (6); Progressive Conservatives 9 (3); CCF 2 (3); Social Credit—(1); Independents 3 (3); Labor-Progressive Communist — (1).

Two Independents Side With Govt.

Two of the three Independents returned have declared their intention of supporting the government.

The Liberal-Progressives won an acclamation in one riding and the vote was deferred in two others.

The party standing in the 57-member legislature at dissolution April 23 was;

Liberal-Progressives 30; Progressive Conservatives 9; CCF 7; Coalition 5; Independent 1; Labor-Progressive 1; vacant 4; total 57. The five Coalition members supported the government.

The party standing after the last election Nov. 10, 1949 was:

Liberal-Progressives 29; Progressive Conservatives 13; CCF 7; Coalition 5; Independent Liberal 1; Independent Progressive Conservative 1; Labor-Progressive 1.

Constituencies still in doubt election night and requiring a second count under Manitoba's system of the single transferable vote for rural constituencies included Assiniboia, Dauphin, Gilbert Plains, Fairford, Iberville, Minnedosa and Russell.

The vote still was incomplete, though members were elected, in Carillon, Emerson, Ethelbert, Fisher, Gimli, Killarney, St. Andrew's, St. Clements, St. George, Swan River and The Pas.

Four constituencies in the Winnipeg district, where vote is by proportional representation, returned only four of their quota of 12 members and further counts take place today.

Campbell, Ministers Returned

Premier Campbell, 58-year-old veteran of 30 years in the legislature, and all of his cabinet ministers were returned. One of them, Works Minister Morton, received an acclamation in Gladstone riding nomination day.

For Mr. Campbell, who succeeded to the premiership when Hon. Stuart Garson entered the federal cabinet in 1948, it was his first test at the polls since 1936. He was returned by acclamation in the elections of 1941, 1945 and 1949.

Errick F. Willis, 57, farmer-politician who has led the Progressive Conservatives since the 1930s, also was re-elected in his first contest since 1936. Along with Mr. Campbell, he has been returned unopposed in the intervening years.

The status of Lloyd Stinson, CCF leader, still was uncertain in a tight race in Winnipeg South.

W. J. Tinkler, president of the Manitoba Social Credit League and nominal leader of the Social Credit forces, was defeated in Morris constituency by Harry Shewman, independent member of the last legislature.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN TWISTER AREA

Governor Calls National Guard

FLINT, Mich. (UP) — The death toll mounted to 143 today as eastern Michigan and northwestern Ohio dug out from the wreckage of one of the nation's worst tornado disasters.

Michigan counted 124 dead and Ohio 19, with more bodies being found hourly in both states. Hundreds were injured.

Hardest hit by the series of twisters which buzz-sawed almost without warning through the heavily populated region at dusk Monday was the Beecher metropolitan district immediately north of Flint, where 109 bodies had been recovered.

MARTIAL LAW

Gov. G. Mennen Williams declared martial law in the Flint area and called in the National Guard to assist state and local law officers. The Red Cross sent out an urgent appeal for blood donors.

The death toll already exceeded that of last month's twister at San Angelo and Waco, Tex., where 123 died, and was one of the worst in this country in 50 years. Only three other storms caused greater fatalities—a series of tornadoes in Alabama in 1932 which killed 268, one in March of last year which killed 232 in six southern states, and one in the Higgins, Tex.-Woodward, Okla., area in 1947 which killed 167

More than 1,000 carloads of moviegoers were gathered at the North Flint drive-in theatre when the twister struck just as the first show began.

Many of the deaths occurred there. Hundreds were injured as cars were thrown about like toys.

BADLY DISMEMBERED

By midnight, 97 bodies had been laid in rows at the National Guard armory here, which was pressed into service as an emergency morgue. Some of the bodies were so badly dismembered they were collected in cellophane bags.

National Guardsmen fought to hold back survivors from entering the armory until it could be "cleaned up." Red Cross workers issued smelling salts and set up spare cots to care for survivors overcome with shock on finding their dead.

A smaller twister killed a Highland Park policeman and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Anscheutz, and demolished their woodland cottage near East Tawas, 100 miles north of here. Their two children, Doreen, 6, and Dana, 2, were missing. A third unidentified person also was killed near East Tawas.

NO WARNING

Tornadoes usually are preceded by heavy rain and hailstorms, driving people to shelter and keeping casualties at a minimum. But the twisters struck Monday evening with little or no warning.

The U.S. weather bureau had asked radio stations at 4 p.m. to broadcast warnings of "locally severe thunderstorms with high winds and a possibility of hail."

William Davis of Oak Park, Mich., said he saw three cars carried through the air at the same time. Their drivers had taken cover. The twister picked up a huge trailer-truck and shook it like a cat worrying a mouse.

OTTAWA PREDICTS B.C. REACTION

Socred Aim to Become Strong National Party Rated Failure

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Social Credit's strong bid to become a national party was blasted Monday by the Manitoba voters. Failure of the Alberta-born political party to win several seats in the Manitoba election, despite its paid-organizers and high-pressure campaign, was seen here as a shattering blow to Social Credit's hopes to win power across Canada.

Political observers at Ottawa were examing the Manitoba vote with the idea of gauging the extent of the impact Social Credit campaigns will have on the federal voting expected to be held Aug. 10. The Manitoba picture encouraged both Liberals and Progressive conservatives to believe that Social Creditors will not be much of a factor federally.

Date of the federal election is expected to be announced Friday night or Saturday. The federal cabinet will meet all day Friday and expectations are that the date will be decided at that meeting. Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent will go to Government House to confer with the Governor-General Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey and, formally, request dissolution of parliament. The date of the election will be publicly announced following dissolution.

The importance the Social Credit party attached to making gains in Manitoba was shown by the fact that both the party's national leader Solon Low and its top-ranking organizer, Rev. E. G. Hansell, took part in the campaign. Mr. Hansell concentrated on Manitoba moving out there as soon as the House of Commons was prorogued. It was Mr. Hansell, a Social Credit MP from Alberta, who played a major part in capturing votes for the party in British Columbia's election last year.

The Social Crediters were well aware of the impact results in Manitoba could have on the British Columbia voting which was taking place Tuesday. It was on the insistence of Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia that Mr. Hansell along with paid organizers of the Social Credit party put on an intensive drive to win seats in Manitoba. The strategy, of course, was to make a good showing in Manitoba's election and thereby influence the British Columbia voters to climb on the band wagon.

However, the lack of enthusiasm among Manitoba's electorate for the Social Credit party demonstrated by the Manitoba results was expected to have repercussions in the west coast voting. Both old line party organizations at Ottawa were predicting it would react to their favor in the British Columbia ballot battle.

Another feature of the Manitoba results being examined closely in the nation's capital was the showing of the CCF party. Here again it appeared that hopes of the Socialists to gain recognition as a national party were shattered. Political observers in Ottawa were inclined to conclude that the two major political parties in Canada will be able to hold their own in the coming federal fight, with neither the Social Credit nor CCF organizations capable of effectively challenging them on the national political scene.

Rhee May Fly to U.S. For Parley With Ike

South Korean President Reported Ready To Make Final Appeal Against Armistice

NEW YORK (UP)—A National Broadcasting Company correspondent in Seoul reported today that South Korean President Syngman Rhee plans to make a last-minute appeal to President Eisenhower not to sign a Korean armistice.

Correspondent Jim Robertson said the 78-year-old Rhee plans to fly either to the United States for a personal conference with Mr. Eisenhower or to Tokyo to make the appeal directly through Gen. Mark Clark.

The correspondent gave as his source a high South Korean official. Robinson said top Republic of Korea officials are pressing Rhee to make the trip either to Washington or Tokyo.

500,000 PROTEST

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) United Nations and Communist staff officers started drafting a final cease-fire line today, with hope for an early armistice mounting steadily.

The staff officers met for two hours and are expected to meet again Wednesday after the regular session of the truce delegates.

In Seoul, peace time capital of Korea, up to 500,000 weeping, chanting men, women and children surged through the streets protesting against what they called an Allied surrender to the Communists.

A fire hose was turned on one group — spearheaded by school girls—who tried to storm United States Eighth Army headquarters. Many were trampled in the rush to escape.

Maj. Gen. Choi Duk Shin, chief South Korean truce delegate, demanded in a formal letter to Lt.-Gen. William K. Harrison, leader of the UN truce team, that the estimated 1,000,000 Chinese Communist troops in Korea be sent back across the Yalu River as part of an armistice agreement.

South Korean troops jumped off on the eastern front in a major bid to recapture, before the fixing of a cease-fire line, ground they lost to the Communists last week.

Developments in a day which, it was hoped, brought an armistice measurably nearer included:

1.—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman-designate of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff, arrived in Seoul for a two-day visit. Because of the mobs that surged through the street, he traveled from Seoul airport to 8th Army headquarters by helicopter. During his visit Radford will see South Korean President Syngman Rhee.

2.—Despite the tough talk of Rhee, his officers and the South Korean parliament, UN chiefs believed that South Korea will accept the armistice as the Allies propose to sign it, and will make no attempt to upset it later.

SIX-YEAR-OLD KNOCKED DOWN BY MOTOR CAR

Kenny Simpson, six years old, was knocked down by a car on John Street at 12.30 today and was reported in serious condition.

The little boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson, 425 John Street, was cut about the head and face, police said, and was wavering on consciousness when taken to Jubilee Hospital.

Police said the driver of the car was William B. Scott, 3071 Albany Street, who was reported to be driving west on John Street when the accident occurred.

Eye-witnesses said the little boy walked into the street into the path of the car.

"He was knocked down by an automobile only about 18 months ago," one said.

Vancouver Woman Savagely Beaten

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver woman, Mrs. Jean Berry, was found savagely beaten in a hotel early today.

A man found in the room with her is being held for investigation.

Police, brought to the scene by an anonymous phone call, said the wall of the room was spattered with blood. They said the scene was "the worst" they had ever investigated.

Police said the woman's wedding and engagement rings were found on the person of the man found in the room.

De Gasperi Leading in Italian Vote

ROME, Italy (UP) — Premier Alcide de Gasperi's pro-western alliance of Italian centre parties appeared assured today of a new five-year lease on life.

His coalition already had safely tucked away a 52.4 per cent majority in the Italian senate.

It needed only to rack up more than 50 per cent of the popular vote for the more influential chamber of deputies to be assured of 64 per cent of the seats in that body.

Interior Minister Mario Scelba said tonight "there is no reason to believe the vote for the chamber of deputies will differ greatly from that in the Senate."

While Italy's powerful Communist party was a factor in the elections, it was a combination of ultra-right wing Monarchists and Neo-Fascists that principally threatened De Gasperi's position.

The extreme left appeared to be doing no better than in the 1948 polls.

Churchill Confident of Early Peace

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today that "nothing ought now to stand in the way of the conclusion of an armistice in Korea except necessary administrative arrangements."

Churchill said he was confident the administrative details "may soon be completed."

"We are satisfied," he added, "that the arrangements now agreed on will ensure that no prisoner of war is repatriated by force."

Churchill went on: "I do not feel that full justice has been done by us here during the last few months to the difficulties to which General Clark and General Harrison were subjected not only by Communist obstinacy but also by the attitude of the South Korean government under Mr. Syngman Rhee."

Early Rush to Polls Hints Bumper Ballot

Sunshine and Intriguing Rivalry Expected to Better 1952 Turn-Out

British Columbia voters, drawn out by sunny skies and an intriguing political situation, today are going to the polls in numbers expected to surpass the 543,456 who turned out last June 12.

It is the second consecutive year that British Columbians have held a general election under ideal weather conditions.

Victoria returning officer Alan Macfarlane, on a tour of the city's 33 polls, reported to the Times:

"There is every indication at this early hour that there will be a heavy turnout of voters. From my observations, the turnout in the early hours is already heavier than last June."

The situation appeared to be similar in Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt.

EARLIER TALLY

Election officials in this area expect to have their first counts completed this time much earlier than last year.

The reason is twofold: Election workers have now had more experience; and this time there will be fewer ballots to count because there are no plebiscites. (Last year there were liquor and daylight-saving.)

In Victoria, where more than 26,000 are expected to vote, officials are aiming to complete the first count by midnight. Last year it was 3 a.m. There are three ballots in the city.

First count totals in the outside municipalities, where each has only one ballot, should be known well before midnight.

RECORD IN RACE

A record 229 candidates are contesting the 48 seats at stake.

MEET DENNIS ON PAGE 4 TODAY

On page 4 today will be found the first "Dennis the Menace" cartoon of a series that will be a regular feature. Dennis the Menace, drawn by Hank Ketcham of Seattle, is rated as the fastest-growing comic panel of the year. It deals with the doings of little Dennis, a mischievous but lovable little character modeled on the real-life son of the Ketchams, and will provide a daily chuckle—with perhaps a memory or two—for every reader.

Belmont Town Manager Takes Council Reins

Community Studies Improvement Plans

Recently named town manager, George Coghill officiated at a council meeting Monday at Belmont Park, in the auditorium of the John Stubbs Memorial School.

The Belmont community organization is working in co-operation with naval authorities to improve conditions in the Belmont Park naval housing subdivision.

Business handled Monday included the decision that all dogs in the area should be kept chained and only allowed on the streets when on a leash.

Lack of volunteer help may cause a halt in children's Saturday swim classes, it was reported. The meeting decided that unless volunteers could be found to take charge of the kiddies on the bus and while swimming, the classes would have to be cancelled.

The council suspended Wednesday evening shows for the summer months.

A Belmont Park baby show has been set for July 18. There will be prizes for the prettiest babies and, as an extra feature, for decorated bikes, trikes, wagons and baby buggies.

Council will send a letter to operators of Veteran's Stages Ltd., asking that the present schedules be altered and extended. Shoppers in the area described the present service to the council as "inadequate."

Canada to Protest Further U.S. Dairy Import Embargoes

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada likely will protest to Washington if tighter American restrictions on the import of dairy and other agricultural products go into effect.

A responsible authority whose name cannot be used says Canadian trade officials "take a poor view" of the United States government's latest protectionist move, announced Monday. It was "very serious."

On the advice of U.S. Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson, President Eisenhower set standby import quotas on dairy products such as flaxseed and linseed oils, peanuts and peanut oils, if the U.S. Defense Production Act is allowed to lapse.

President Eisenhower's proclamation would transfer the administration of these products from under the act to the U.S. agriculture department unless the act is extended by further legislation.

Although official Canadian comment was unavailable, one trade official said Canada may consider withdrawal of certain tariff concessions granted the U.S. following the Second World War.

There was little expectation that Canadian protest would bring relaxation of U.S. import controls.

Electrical Crews Seeking Ten-Cent Hourly Pay Raise

Approximately 1,000 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (TLC) will seek a 10-cent hourly wage increase this year from the B.C. Electric Co. Ltd. and two Vancouver line contracting firms.

About 150 of the men concerned are in Victoria. The remainder are on the mainland.

B.C. Electric pays its linemen $2.21 per hour, and the contractors' rate is $2.27.

Union officials have announced negotiations will begin shortly, since the present contract expires Aug. 1.

Others elected were: Lloyd D. Kissinger, vice-president; Austin Craven, treasurer; Ronald Kay, recording secretary; Richard Baines, corresponding secretary, and John Kissinger Jr., trustee.

Ex-students interested in the society may contact Mr. Howard of the law firm of Green, McQuarrie & Howard, at 316 Uganda.

Plane Will Pick Up Ill Woman From Ship

SEATTLE (AP) — A Coast Guard plane was dispatched early today to pick up a woman stricken aboard the steamship Baranoff en route from Ketchikan to Seattle.

The victim, identified as Mrs. Margaret Bernhoft, was to be flown to a Seattle hospital. The nature of her illness was not immediately known.

The Baranoff radioed the Coast Guard from a location north of Vancouver Island. The plane was to intercept the ship in that vicinity.

Mrs. Bernhoft's husband, Dr. Stanley Bernhoft, and her son were sailing with her.

U.S. TRADE ACT EXTENSION MOVED

Committee Approves Extra Year's Trial; Bill Still Needs Stamp of Senate, House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives ways-and-means committee today approved a one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act beyond June 12 as urged by President Eisenhower.

The bill extends Eisenhower's authority to lower tariffs on foreign goods coming into the U.S. in return for trade concessions to the U.S. by other nations.

The president called for the extension in a special message to Congress two months ago, but the measure had been stalled for weeks in the committee by Republicans seeking to increase trade restrictions, rather than lessen them.

OTTAWA (CP) — Extension of the United States Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act will allow the American government to rebind tariff concessions granted to the free world in the post-war period but is not likely to lead to any new tariff cuts, Canadian officials said today.

They were commenting on a Washington dispatch reporting that the House of Representatives ways-and-means committee has approved a one-year extension of the act beyond June 12 requested by President Eisenhower. The bill still [illegible] approved by the House and U.S. Senate.

Formal three-year bindings on the many tariff concessions granted to member countries under the 34-country General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade expire at the end of this year. Armed with a renewed act, Eisenhower may agree to a further three-year extension of the concessions while he makes a general review of American trade policy.

Ike Follows TV Program With Tour

WASHINGTON (UP) — Republican strategists are ready for the big test of their belief that the party's best assets right now are President Eisenhower's grin and folksy eloquence.

He takes off Wednesday to try those personal charms on the public in speeches spotted in the mid-west and the east.

While Mr. Eisenhower is starring in his administration's first road show, Republican National Committee Chairman Leonard W. Hall will be seeking grass-root reactions to the president's performance. Hall left Monday on a coast-to-coast swing during which he will speak in six states.

The president will return to Washington Sunday. His journey is a natural follow-up to last week's innovation—a televised report to the nation with a cast of cabinet aides supporting the star. [illegible] vised reports and there will be more presidential personal appearances away from Washington.

Hard-Fighting RCR Relieved by Pats On Korea Front

IN KOREA (CP)—The Princess Patricias moved into the line Sunday, relieving the Royal Canadian Regiment, which has seen some stiff action since it took over its section of the front April 20.

The move leaves the 3rd Patricais—the battalion now is on its second tour of operations in Korea—manning the Canadian front with the 3rd battalion of the Royal Regiment. The RCR's 3rd battalion now goes into reserve for a well-earned rest.

Train-Buster Bovey Awarded DSC in Korea

Canadian Vessel Earns 'Mentions'

"Train-buster" actions in Korea have resulted in award of a Distinguished Service Cross to Lt.-Cmdr. John Bovay, commanding officer, HMCS Crusader. [illegible] in a list of awards announced by Ottawa Monday were two members of Crusader's crew who were mentioned in dispatches. They are CPO Richard Williams, 800 Intervale, Victoria, and AB James G. Stewart, Edmonton.

Crusader's sorties against coastal railways has earned her the proudest record in the UN fleet; she has four and one-half trains to her record.

The 36-year-old skipper's citation lauded the "coolness, excellent judgment and cheerfulness" in operating his ship within range of enemy guns.

"Displaying exceptional persistence in repair of fire control systems under conditions of extreme urgency" won the mention for CPO Williams.

AB Stewart was mentioned for "exceptional initiative and ability in the performance of his duties."

Five members of HMCS Iriquois complement were also honored, to bring to 42 the total of awards made to RCN officers and men serving in the Korea theatre. HMCS Iriquois will relieve Crusader later this month.

ARSON STATEMENT IN POPOFF TRIAL

NELSON, B.C. (CP—A statement confessing to an arson attack on a home at Castlegar last August was submitted as evidence in assize court here Monday, as the crown completed its case against Paul Karl Popoff, a Doukhobor.

The statement was uncontested by the defense.

The charge stems from a fire which caused $4,200 damage to the home of John J. Bloodoff, and is the first of five scheduled at the spring assizes here.

Popoff faces three arson charges and William Konkin, two.

Outcome of the trial is expected to have a bearing on future actions of the radical Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect in the West Kootenays.

Ralph West, former Castlegar fire chief, testified that he and four firemen drove Popoff from Castlegar after the fire.

West said they took Popoff to the fire scene some hours later to establish the position of a paint can. He denied that Popoff had been threatened into making a confession.

Answering defense counsel J. A. MacDonald's charges that the firemen had called 'Popoff "dirty Douk, dirty liar," West said that he was angry and there was a possibility he called Popoff a "liar."

West admitted having been with a party of residents in 1947 who attempted to drive the Sons of Freedom out of the Brilliant-Castlegar area.

Earlier at Monday's hearing, Mr. Justice Herbert S. Wood told the crowded courtroom that whether Popoff belongs to the Sons of Freedom sect should have no bearing on the case.

The trial is continuing.

Mother, Daughter Jointly Charged With Murder of Man

VILLE MARIE, Que. (CP)—Provincial police said today Mrs. Ernest Trudel, 33, and her 12-year-old daughter will be arraigned Friday on charges of murder arising out of the shotgun slaying of Joseph Caya last week.

Mrs. Trudel and her daughter, Suzanne, were found criminally responsible by a coroner's jury for the death of Caya, 44-year-old garage-owner. He was described by police as an intimate friend of Mrs. Trudel.

At the inquest, Mrs. Trudel testified she planned Caya's slaying. She said she arranged two chairs in front of a screen door at her home, then invited Caya to call while her husband, a miner, was absent.

She told the coroner's jury she instructed her daughter to hide behind the door with a loaded shotgun. She described how she fixed a sheet of paper over the screen door to hide her daughter, who was instructed to shoot Caya and "be sure not to miss."

"I got Suzanne to stand behind the screen door where she wouldn't be seen," Mrs. Trudel testified.

"She was about three feet from the chairs. When Joseph arrived, I sat him in the chair nearest the door and signalled Suzanne who fired into his back."

Queen Elizabeth Gives Thanks to God for Crown

LONDON (CP) The Queen went to St. Paul's Cathedral in brilliant sunshine today to sit at the feet of the Archbishop of Canterbury and thank God for the crown she received from him a week ago.

The great church bells pealed a welcome as she drove from Buckingham Palace in an open car with the Duke of Edinburgh. Thousands lined the streets.

In the cathedral were the Queen Mother, Princess Margaret, the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, the Duchess of Kent, Sir Winston Churchill and the prime ministers and representatives from the Commonwealth, including Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada.

For much of the service, in which 3,000 participated, the Queen's head was bowed. She faced the high altar, under the pulpit, and occasionally glanced shyly across an aisle at Churchill, who gave her a reassuring smile.

Beside the Queen was the Duke and next to him the Queen Mother. They sat on crimson chairs of state brought from Buckingham Palace.

In a brief sermon the Archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, looking down on the Queen, told her that the moment of her Coronation last week the British association of nations was very close to the kingdom of God.

The crowning of the young Queen in solemn ceremony, he said, had awakened a widespread appreciation of the power of religion.

The service was a splendid ecclesiastical spectacle in which the highest church dignitaries of a number of denominations took part.

There was inspiring music by the cathedral choir and the fanfares of trumpets reverberated triumphantly in the church's great dome.

Five Canadians, including Group Capt. J. B. Harvey of Winnipeg, helped as ushers.

Are there good jobs in a nickel mine?

"Yes, there are good jobs and a lot of them in the nickel mines and plants. There is still a certain amount of heavy work to do, but machines have made most jobs a lot easier and more pleasant. For instance, the ore today is handled almost entirely by machines instead of by pick and shovel."

"Do the men get good pay?"
"Yes, at Inco even a beginner makes good money. As time goes on there are chances for working into better and better jobs. In addition, employees receive medical and hospital care for themselves and families at very low cost to them. Pensions are paid to employees who retire or are disabled and these are paid for by the company. So you see Inco is a real good place to work."

A Precedent Has Been Set

SEVERAL SALIENT FACTS emerge from the cloud of discussion and argument that has cloaked the later stages of the armistice negotiations in Korea. Agreement has now been reached on the question of prisoner repatriation—the point on which the larger problem of a truce has been stalemated for many months, and the signing of a cease-fire appears to be only a matter of hours.

Granted that signing, the following considerations become clear. In the first place, the original objective of the United Nations in entering the Korean war has been achieved. The invasion by North Korean communists, in June, 1950, has been halted and repulsed. The present battlelines are somewhat to the northward of the official North-South border and no communist troops are in South Korea except as prisoners. To this extent, then, the United Nations has succeeded in its objective.

The later goal, of uniting the Korean peninsula and holding universal balloting to establish one government, has not been realized. Unification, if it is to come, must come from negotiation or a further adjustment of larger world factors.

Secondly, and perhaps of greater importance than the actual outcome of the war, is the fact that a precedent has been set whereby the world organization has taken the field against unprovoked aggression.

Although the United Nations had no armed forces under its own command, member nations—principally the United States, aided by Commonwealth, French, Turkish and other contingents—provided divisions to aid the hard-pressed South Korean units. These, after retreats and heavy losses in the early days of the fighting, and a later advance which swept to the northern boundary of the Yalu River, stabilized the lines about midway up the peninsula.

The primary feature of this development was that for the first time in history a world organization—as distinct from an exclusive multi-nation alliance—engaged directly and under its own flag in fighting an aggressor. The ultimate effects of this action in regard to further potential aggression are incalculable.

Thirdly, the Korean war saw the United States emerge as military, as well as nominal, leader of the western world, and further saw it come face to face with the costs of that leadership both in lives and treasure. Carrying by far the major burden of the United Nations campaign, the United States suffered most of the western casualties. That it was a war in defense of an ideal and not for mere national aggrandizement made these losses no easier to bear.

In the more limited field of the truce negotiations several other facts stand out.

Originally China refused to consider any such talks unless she first was permitted to enter the United Nations. That permission was never given, yet the Panmunjom talks took place.

Again, the communists at first refused to consider any prisoner repatriation arrangement other than forced return of all who were reluctant. Later this was modified to permit various delays in repatriation while those who elected non-repatriation were subjected to persuasion from visiting agents under neutral control.

The fate of those still not agreeing was to depend on the outcome of negotiation between the warring sides—which obviously could continue indefinitely and so present the prisoners with the alternatives of return or years of captivity. The final arrangement to which the communists now agree will free all prisoners at the termination of 120 days from the signing of the truce—an obvious diplomatic win for the UN.

There seems little doubt that the long months of haggling at Panmunjom could have been satisfactorily concluded at any moment by the communists; that much of the talking has been merely stalling tactics by the Chinese and North Koreans, that Peiping has used the negotiations to wring out the last drop of propaganda for home consumption, and that when the word was received from Peiping—or Moscow—the truce agreement took only a few days to complete.

The actual signing of that document will bring to a close three years of savage warfare carried on at astronomical costs. But the lives and the wealth will not have been spent in vain if would-be aggressors have learned the lesson implicit in the United Nations action. Right has repulsed might, and who shall put a limit to what should be invested in that outcome.

Example in Manitoba

WHILE THE COUNT REMAINS incomplete in certain ridings as this is written, the results of Manitoba's general election yesterday are clear. Premier Douglas Campbell has led the Liberal-Progressives back into power with approximately the same strength as they had at dissolution.

That province has shown a sane appreciation of policies which have proved widely satisfactory and the voters have not been beguiled by any airy promises from extremists.

The significant development, apart from the success of the Campbell forces, has been the rejection by Manitoba of Social Credit candidates. One only enjoyed a lead in the progressive counts. The movement has virtually gained nothing there. The swing in Manitoba, where the party made a major bid has not been to Social Credit which, as a national force, can draw scant comfort from the emphatic judgment passed upon it by the electors yesterday.

To a marked degree Manitoba has shown a preference for the two-party system of government, giving Liberals the majority and Progressive-Conservatives a slightly stronger role in opposition. The dominance of the two senior parties has apparently cut into CCF strength.

The one obvious factor emerging from the test is that the Alberta-born beliefs of Aberhart followers have been dismissed by the most easterly of the prairie provinces. As its former premier and present federal justice minister, Hon. Stuart Garson, has noted, the result was a "gratifying demonstration of the good sense of Manitoba voters."

As they go to the polls in British Columbia today, the voters have an excellent example before them—an example which repudiates the claim of Socreds to the role of destiny they have sought to assume in the Pacific Coast campaign. In politically conscious Manitoba the sane principles of Liberal administration have again won public confidence.

Plain Talk for the Commies

AS USUAL, the Communists have used the current election as a vehicle for their mischievous propaganda. If past records are any guide, they will poll less than half of one per cent of the popular vote, and they will elect no members; nevertheless, they are accorded space in the newspapers and time on the radio as a "legitimate" party, and their leader was solemnly displayed in a contemporary newspaper last week, enunciating his platform with the other party chieftains.

In furtherance of its propaganda aims, the Communist-run B.C. "Peace" Council staged an open forum in Vancouver Thursday night, inviting political candidates to speak on the subject: "Where Do We Stand On Peace?"

They must have been shocked at the answer they received from Stewart Chambers, a young Progressive-Conservative candidate in Point Grey. It is reported that the audience of 700 sat in stunned silence while Mr. Chambers made this statement:

"I do not propose to seek the votes of the enemies of this country.

"I neither expect nor want the support of the Peace Council for they speak not for peace but imagine mischievous things about those who are quiet in the land.

"If members of the Peace Council were genuinely interested in peace they would not do as they always do and serve the interests of one power—Soviet Russia—which is the only threat to peace today.

"I can only regard those who have organized the so-called Peace Council as enemy troops in civilian clothing inside our lines and in the event of a general war I presume you would be treated as such."

Bravo, Mr. Chambers!

We don't know this young man, but if we lived in Point Grey we would vote for him.

'Anything to Declare?'

As Our Readers See It

TAXES

Amalgamation of municipalities is in the air.

Research into the advantages and disadvantages has been wisely suggested.

Taxes in Victoria were for years so heavy and so unfairly loaded that close to half the owners of vacant lots lost all their investments amounting, in one case at least, to far over one hundred thousand dollars, and in thousands of cases to sums the owners could ill afford to lose. Many of these lots had been bought for the owner's future home site.

But besides vacant land hundreds of homes were confiscated by grinding taxation. Other owners saw their life savings invested in supposedly income producing property confiscated by exorbitant taxation.

Take one instance: On a property which is basically the same as in 1943 except that it is ten years older, from 1945 to 1953 the taxes have increased from a little over $600 to over $1200, virtually double; this is in spite of the fact several tenants' rentals are still at 1941 figures because of rent control.

The owner's heat bill has nearly doubled, his repair and decorating costs have about trebled, and so on with all costs.

His rentals have not trebled nor doubled.

It is experiences such as these which need close scrutiny in the best interests of the development of this city.

CITIZEN.

WARNING

Your currently roving representative, Bruce Hutchison, reporting from Heidelberg, says—"The German people on the whole, the people who lost the war, are better dressed, better fed and look a good deal more cheerful than the English, who won it . . . . After the holiday everyone is working—carpenters for example—from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m."

This should be a warning to the English-speaking world, particularly industrialists and trade unions, economists and authorities in government. With our standard trade union 40-hour week, minus the fearful swath of lost time caused by strikes, we are on the road to national suicide. The Germans, if Mr. Hutchison is correct, work 66 hours per week, and are certainly not plagued with strike as are we.

What of the future? If industrial hard work will balance the budget and solve national economic problems (as figures tend to prove and some executives aver) perhaps the actuary will be able to tell us just how long it will take Germany to be able to challenge our armed might again.

"Lest we forget," in 1918 they were counted down-and-out, but recovered to come within an ace of winning the Second World War. The present trend is that it will definitely happen again, barring a miracle.

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

I WAS watching a pole-vaulter the other day. On the far side of the jump he and his mates had arranged a deep, soft nest for him to land in, so as not to break the arches of his feet.

A very sensible precaution. I don't know if those chaps had emptied their mother's eiderdown quilts into that nest, but they seemed to have just about everything else there. If a princess had slept on that nest, she'd not have felt a whole can of minestrone under it, let alone a single pea.

Brock

But to me the interesting thing was that instead of being below ground, with the top just level with the surrounding soil, as in most jumping pits, the nest was apparently just laid on the turf. At any rate, four or five feet of it were above ground. As a result, the vaulter rose his 13 feet or whatever he was doing, but only fell about eight feet. For some unsporting reason, this disappointed me a lot. I felt he was cheating me. I wanted the complete round trip from Mother Earth to outer space and back again to M. Earth.

HEAVENS, said I (though not out loud), if you once start this building of Towers of Babel, made out of purest down, where will it end? What will the harvest be? You might as well have the dizzy structure level with the bar for each jump, so that vaulter could land on it while lying down, and go to sleep. That would brighten up the field events [illegible] into the arms of Old Man Morpheus. Another novelty would be to have the jumpers land in the sort of net that trapeze artists try not to miss. Or, at the Firemen's Annual Sports, the firemen could hold one of those blanket things they catch people in on the streets below those burning hotels that Life Magazine is always looking for.

AS for the hurdlers . . . oh boy! . . . we could have a brass drum on the far side of the final hurdle. Each runner would be required to clear the last hurdle with both feet in front of him, in the style of a broad-jumper. Not only would this keep him from putting a foot through the drum, but it would make him land on it sitting down. It would bring down the house. Any drums left over would be used as targets for the shot-put. I have never put a shot through a drum myself, though I put one through a plaster wall in the Fifth Form classroom at Brentwood. Whereupon a somnolent master lifted his poor old head for an instant and said "Stop fidgetting." and went back to sleep again like any pole-vaulter.

GOING back to the vaulters, I think it would be much funnier, as well as more of a blood sport, if the jump were more like the Becher's Brook death-trap on the Grand National course at Aintree, near Liverpool. In the old days, when it was named after the dashing Captain Becher, the brook was just what one might expect . . . a stream of water as nature made it. Today it is a tiny gutter encased in cement. If a horse straddles the thick hedge, as many horses do, he falls vertically onto the concrete, and if he isn't dead by then, animal-lovers quickly appear and shoot him. Sometimes the rider is at death's door too, if not past it, but people-lovers are not allowed to shoot him.

IF the horse clears the hedge like a bird and has taken a long enough leap, he lands on level turf which is (I think) a bit higher than the turf he took off from . . . very like pole-vaulting, in fact. But if his jump is too short, he lands on a very steep bank leading down into the cement gully, and he has his choice of breaking either front leg, or both, or his neck. Unless he lands on something soft, such as another horse or a fallen rider.

NOW what I suggest is this. Turn pole-vaulting into a race, with several bars side by side and all the vaulters jumping at once. On the far side would be a horrible tangle of barbed wire, broken glass, cement pyramids as used against tanks, and that sort of thing. Also, there would be about a forty-foot [illegible] back to the starting place and try again. Or they could go on to some more jumps further along the course, so as to meet a variety of laughable obstacles.

You will say that obstacle races are no new thing. No, but mine is. Wait till you see it. You'll die laughing. Why, at the last few fences (as we old obstacle-vaulters call them) the spectators are actually allowed to throw javelins and the hammer and shot and discus at the jumpers. The discus is a silly thing at best, and only fit to throw at vaulters anyhow. A man who would throw the discus in earnest would believe in flying saucers.

O MISEREE!

"I WONDER why so many parsons keep harping on the fact that we're all miserable sinners?" says I to a small boy. "Maybe because it's naughty to be miserable," say this male Pollyanna. And indeed, I think there may be something in what he says. It isn't the glib optimism of Pollyanna at all, but sound mental health.

Story Behind the Story

(Ottawa Citizen)

THE PUBLIC'S tendency to take the finished product of craftsmen for granted has for a long time been met head-on by photographers whose work appears in magazines devoted to the camera.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has taken a similar course in bringing to the television screen "Operation Pony Express," through which viewers can see for themselves the organization behind the transport of Coronation film from London to Montreal in a few hours.

Photographers and the CBC not only enlighten the lay public by these means, but assist skilled individuals who may some day have parallel problems to solve.

It is useful to know that a picture was taken with a Rolypoly camera, aperture f4.5, shutter speed 1/100th, on super-neurotic film, with the sun 45 degrees west, and that the photographer had never before used anything but a Brownie. Publication of such intelligence demonstrates a pride of craftsmanship which must inevitably communicate itself to the reader, who may now see in the published photograph virtues that he might otherwise never have suspected.

"Operation Pony Express" also tells the story behind the story. In meticulous detail, it shows boxes of film being loaded into and out of aircraft, the planes are introduced to the public by name and rank.

After seeing the film, no one could doubt that if the Coronation was to be televised in Canada on the same day as the event in London, transport would have to be the fastest possible means.

And for the record, this piece was written on two sheets of nine-by-seven-inch copy paper, on a standard typewriter. The typing was done in short bursts, at about 40-50 words a minute, but with long pauses in between, when the writer stared out of the window, his thoughts wandering. Three false tenses, two hanging participles, and one parallel construction had to be straightened out before the editorial was judged fit for the printers.

Massey's Mangler

(From Time)

LIFEMANSHIP is a form of psychological warfare invented by British Humorist Stephen Potter and designed, in any given social situation, to make the other fellow feel about as small as an anchovy canape. The various conversational gambits to achieve this end, carefully chronicled by Founder Potter under names like Marshall's Mangler, † have been widely studied in the Western Hemisphere.

Last week, no less a Canadian than Governor General Vincent Massey stood revealed as a brilliant Lifeman.

When foreign dignitaries call on him, according to a story making the rounds in Ottawa, the Governor General usually asks whether the visitor has been in Canada before. To this, as often as not, the answer is: "No, but I have been several times in the U.S."

"Right there," reports an official who has been present at these meetings, "a flicker of annoyance will cross Massey's visage." Swinging smoothly into his gambit, Governor General Massey then asks how many people live in the visitor's homeland. Cheerfully, the guest provides the figure. Whereupon Lifeman Massey pounces: "Oh, really? I had no idea it had grown so large."

'The Excited Accusers'—'The Profession of Denunciation'

IN 1947 George F. Kennan, later U.S. Amassador to Russia and experienced member of the State Department, produced a scholarly and practical study of Soviet aims and purposes. It served as the basis for American policy of "containing" Communism introduced by the Truman administration.

Now Mr. Kennan has turned his analytical talents to a danger closer to home in a thoughtful convocation address at Notre Dame University. He deals with "forces too diffuse to be described by their association with the name of any one man or any one political concept.

"They have no distinct organizational forms. They are as yet largely matters of the mind and the emotion in large masses of individuals. But they all march, in one way or another, under the banner of an alarmed and exercised anti-Communism—but an anti-Communism of a quite special variety, bearing an air of excited discovery and proprietorship, as though no one had ever known before that there was a Communist danger."

Many of these people, says Mr. Kennan, are sincere and good people.

"But," he continues, "I have the deepest misgivings about the direction and effects of their efforts.

"In general, I feel that what they are doing is unwise and unfortunate, and I am against it. They distort and exaggerate the dimensions of the problem with which they profess to deal. . .

"And having thus incorrectly stated the problem, it is no wonder that these people constantly find the wrong answers. They tell us to remove our eyes from the constructive and positive purposes and pursue with fanaticism the negative and vindictive ones. They sow timidity where there should be boldness; fear where there should be serenity, suspicion where there should be confidence and generosity. In this they impel us—in the name of our salvation from the dangers of Communism—to many of the habits of thought and action which our Soviet adversaries, I am sure, would most like to see us adopt. . .

". . . these forces are narrowly exclusive in their approach to our world position, and carry this exclusiveness vigorously into the field of international cultural exchanges. They tend to stifle the interchange of cultural impulses that is vital to the progress of the intellectual and artistic life of our people. The people in question seem to feel either that cultural values are not important at all or that America has reached the apex of cultural achievement and no longer needs in any serious way the stimulus of normal contact with other peoples in the field of arts and letters.

"They look with suspicion both on the sources of intellectual and artistic activity in this country and on impulses of this nature coming to us from abroad. . .

". . . we begin to draw about ourselves (through the restrictiveness of their activities and exclusion of foreign cultural leaders) a cultural curtain similar in some respects to the Iron Curtain of our adversaries. In doing so we begin to bring our intellectual and artistic life the same sort of sterility from which the cultural world of our Communist adversaries is already suffering. . .

". . . as in its relations to external environment, the tendency of these forces is exclusive and intolerant—quick to reject, slow to receive. . .

"They claim the right to define a certain area of our national life and cultural output as beyond the bounds of righteous approval. And the circle tends to grow constantly narrower.

"One has the impression that, if uncountered, these people would eventually narrow the area of political and cultural respectability to a point where it included only themselves, the excited accusers, and excluded everything and everybody not embraced in the profession of denunciation.

"I would know of no moral or political authority for this sort of thing. I tremble when I see this attempt to make a semi-religious cult out of emotional-political currents of the moment, and particularly when I note that these currents are ones exclusively negative in nature, designed to appeal only to men's capacity for hatred and fear, never to their capacity for forgiveness and charity and understanding.

Mr. Kennan paid tribute to Notre Dame for its expansion of the liberal arts curriculum and closed with the statement:

"Finally, it lies with the devotees of the liberal arts to combat the forces of intolerance in our society; to convince people that these forces are incompatible with the flowering of the human spirit, to remember that the ultimate judgments of good and evil are not ours to make; that the wrath of man against his fellow man must always be tempered by the recollection of his weaknesses and fallibility and by the example of forgiveness and redemption which is the essence of his Christian heritage."—Condensed from The New Republic reproduction of Mr. Kennan's address.

Zippers and 'Hot Dogs'

SOME of my readers who are a little sensitive on the subject of sausages may view this column with suspicion—just as some people do some sausages. But I can assure them that anything I say here cannot in any way be construed as reflecting upon the integrity and honesty of sausage "innards."

But I just couldn't let one epoch-making piece of news recording the latest process in the evolution of the sausage pass without commenting on it. After all, sausages had their origin in a past buried in antiquity. The word itself, according to those who should know, is derived from the Latin word, "salsus," meaning preserved meats.

Nancy

And the first evidence of its emergence as a commonplace article of food came, not with the start of the "sausage-and-mashed" era of British history, but some thousands of years before Christ, according to the historians.

That's why I opened my eyes on reading that the weiner or frankfurter or "hot dog," whichever you like to call it, is now being fitted with a zipper. About a couple of weeks ago, New Yorkers learned of the latest stride in the march of progress made by this first cousin to a sausage.

It may have been Coney Island's influence which induced a New York firm to produce "hot dogs" with built-in zippers. But whatever led up to it the firm proudly announces that, after long study and many experiments, they are now turning out wieners which are laced together down their longest side with nylon string. Wouldn't you know it would be nylon?

When the wiener is cooked, the "innards" swell and pull the casing taut. All that you have to do is to pull the string and the "hot dog" is unzipped, taking a strip of skin with it about a quarter of an inch wide. This permits of the casing to be ripped off in one piece—a great step forward in the niceties of eating the succulent sausage.

Now it so happens that I am not what you would consider a confirmed addict of the "hot dog" cult. True, I have eaten them, chiefly on those occasions such as community celebrations and group picnics, where the "hot dog" is as universally recognized a "piece de resistance" as cold storage turkey is of club banquets.

But I know enough about them to realize that, with the arrival of the "hot dog" in the zipper-and-nylon class, civilization has indeed made a notable advance. I am now breathlessly awaiting word of what's cooking with its rival, the hamburger. Will they be kept in shape with girdles?

FROM WASHINGTON — By WALTER LIPPMAN

Let Red China Join the UN?

THERE are several and not merely two distinct positions on whether the Chinese seat on the Security Council of the United Nations is to be occupied by a delegate appointed by Peking or by Formosa.

Lippmann

The position of the Peking government has the support of the Soviet Union and its satellites, also of India and of some other Asian states. The Peking government contends that when Red China became the effective government on the Chinese mainland, it was as a matter of law entitled to represent China on the UN.

The opposite position is that of the Chinese Nationalists. They hold that Red China can never be admitted to the UN because the Chinese civil war can never end until Red China has been destroyed. This position has considerable support in the U.S. It is not the position of the Administration and it is violently opposed by America's European allies and by the leading countries of Free Asia.

These two absolute positions—reflecting the views in an irreconcilable civil war—account for most of the violence in the emotions with which this question is now charged. However, neither is in fact within the field of serious practical international politics, and there is almost certainly no government in the world that really holds either position—except for purposes of argument and propaganda.

When we come to the serious and practical positions, as distinct from the theoretical and speculative ones, the differences are by no means so wide and unbridgeable as they are often made out to be.

There are, I believe, two main positions which can be discerned and differentiated. One is the British position. The other is an American position, which is as yet undeclared and undefined but is logically implied in all their action.

The British view is that Peking should take the seat on the Security Council after an armistice in Korea but before the political conference which is to deal with Korea and before the negotiation of the other issues with Red China.

A reasonable American view would be that Red China should be admitted only after there is an agreed political settlement in the Far East. The agreement should cover a plan for the rehabilitation, unification, and protected independence of Korea. It should cover also at least a modus vivendi as between mainland China and Formosa China, and it should include an agreement to participate in international action to bring about a cease fire in Indo-China.

This would, I believe, be a sound American position—acceptable in principle and workable in practice. It does not call for unconditional surrender. It does not declare that Red China will never under any circumstances be admitted, and it is not, therefore, a new version of unconditional surrender which requires a total war to enforce it.

It is an offer to make peace by negotiation, while standing firmly on the ground that until a peace is arrived at by negotiation the formal relations that pertain to states that are at peace with one another cannot be entered into.

The British and Americans, therefore, are agreed that until there is an armistice in Korea, neither would agree to let Peking have the Chinese seat in the Security Council.

We differ on whether Peking should have the seat after an armistice or only after a Far Eastern peace treaty. But this difference looks bigger in theory than it would be in practice.

IN HOLLYWOOD — By BOB THOMAS

Financial Woes of Comedians

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Abbott and Costello disclosed today they have been earning $1,750,000 a year for the last 12 years but are able to save nothing.

The fantastic finances of film players has long been a subject of conjecture. This is the first time that stars have revealed facts and figures and shown where the money goes.

The disclosure shows some amazing things. Among them is the warning by the pair's manager that they will never get out of the hole until they sell their houses and live more modestly.

"I have to estimate how much money I'm going to get in the coming year and keep paying taxes while the money is coming in," Lou said. "I've already paid $40,000 for this year and I'm $50,000 behind. If I fail to estimate correctly for any quarter, I get penalized.

"How can I estimate? We might suddenly get some frozen money from Europe that will upset all our figures. Then we get socked with a penalty. We just can't get ahead."

Manager Eddie Sherman detailed their finances since they first hit the big time in 1941. He said their earning have averaged $1,750,000 a year. About $1,000,000 of this comes from their movies, on all of which they now share the profits. The rest of the revenue came from personal appearances and radio in the early years and TV today.

But out of this big sum comes some whopping expenses. In an average year, Sherman says the boys would have these costs. Writers, more than $100,000; agent's commission 10 per cent, $175,000; legal fees, $40,000; accounting fees, $75,000; travel $30,000 entertainment, $50,000; clothes, $10,000.

Sherman admitted that these amounts sound high, but the comics operate on a lavish scale. They would take their radio gang to New York and buy meals and theatre tickets for all, as well as the usual expenses.

"They also give away huge amounts of money to charity and keep old pals on the payroll," Sherman said.

He added that the comics are in the 94 per cent income bracket, which means they actually retain 6 cents of every dollar they earn. Abbott says that he now is in the 110 per cent bracket because of penalties on back payments.

MILITARY BOARD UPHOLDS LIFE TERM ON GENERAL'S DAUGHTER

WASHINGTON (UP)—A military board of review has upheld the conviction of Mrs. Dorothy Krueger Smith, the general's daughter who was found guilty of stabbing her colonel husband to death, it was disclosed today.

The army board, corresponding to an appeals court in civilian law, also affirmed her court-martial sentence of life imprisonment at hard labor.

Mrs. Smith, 40-year-old daughter of Gen. Walter Krueger, famed Second World War commander, was found guilty by a court-martial in January of premeditated murder in the stabbing of Col. Aubrey D. Smith in the bedroom of their Tokyo apartment last October.

The case will almost certainly be appealed to the military court of appeals—the court of last resort under military law. Her lawyers have pledged to appeal the verdict all the way to President Eisenhower if necessary.

PRAIRIE ROUND-UP

Alberta Hotel Keepers Warned English-Type Pubs May Appear

CALGARY (CP) — Hotel keepers were warned Monday by liquor control board chairman A. J. Mason that the public is demanding improvements in beer parlors.

"You will not need second sight to see the writing on the wall," he told nearly 300 delegates at the annual convention of the Alberta Hotel Association.

A major complaint was against over-crowding and Mr. Mason said the board might be prepared to permit the use of extra rooms such as dining rooms for the serving of beer.

Replying to suggestions that introduction of the English-type pub would be the answer to all problems, Mr. Mason said many of the wayside pubs were not paying concerns. They were run at a loss by breweries and he had been informed that the innkeeper sometimes had to make a living elsewhere.

"But if you do not protect yourselves, you may find something like this introduced," he warned.

CLOSE POLIO CHECK

EDMONTON (CP) — Provincial health authorities will maintain a close watch on incidence of polio during the next month as they attempt to find a trend to tell them whether the polio situation will reach the record proportions of 1952.

Dr. Norman Baster, director of communicable diseases, said Monday that it is too early to forecast the polio trend for the year. Of the 20 cases reported so far this year, many have been "carryover" cases from the previous year's outbreak.

Normally, Dr. Baster said, the polio case list begins lengthening at the end of June, increasing through August.

ALBERTA RABIES CASE

EDMONTON (CP) — Federal veterinarians Monday confirmed the first Alberta rabies case in more than a week. A lamb was found stricken with the disease in the Lac la Biche area. It was bitten by a diseased coyote near Grassland, 95 miles northeast of Edmonton.

ADMITTED TO BAR

LETHBRIDGE (CP) — Clarence Yanosik of Lethbridge and Norman David McLean of Pincher Creek were admitted to the Alberta bar Monday by Mr. Justice J. S. Wilson.

Mr. McLean was presented by Gilbert C. Patterson and Mr. Yanosik by Max Moscovitch.

Mr. McLean, a native of Pincher Creek, took his degrees at the University of Alberta and University of British Columbia.

FIRE UNDER CONTROL

EDMONTON, Alta. (CP) — Fire-fighters today had checked a forest fire that threatened to engulf the northern Alberta settlement of McMurray.

The blaze still was burning but its advance on the village of some 1,000 inhabitants had been stopped by a crew of 60 men and four bulldozers.

The fire crackled to within five miles of McMurray Monday. Dense smoke drifted over the village, 250 miles northeast of Edmonton, but the frame buildings were saved by the fire-fighters.

WITHDRAW APPLICATION

CALGARY, Alta. (BUP)—Alberta Natural Gas Co. Ltd. withdrew its application for a permit to export gas from the province to eastern Canada as the Alberta Conservation Board reopened its hearings Monday.

Counsel Y. G. Nolan said the firm's New York directors had wired their decision to withdraw the application, without giving a reason.

The conservation board was resuming hearings of bids to pipe Alberta gas out of the province after an adjournment of nearly a month.

At the previous sessions last month, Alberta Natural Gas and associated companies agreed to defer consideration of their other request to export gas to the Pacific Northwest. They agreed to wait until the U.S. Federal Power Commission had ruled on a similar application made by West Coast Transmission, Ltd.

Anti-Freeze Probe Completed; Report To Next Session

OTTAWA (CP)—The tariff board has completed its inquiry into the price spread on anti-freeze, Finance Minister Abbott said Monday.

The minister said he has received the board's report. It will be made public at the opening of the next session of parliament in accordance with the law.

The inquiry formed part of a double-barrelled tariff board study following complaints by Canadian anti-freeze manufacturers that ethylene glycol, basic ingredient of anti-freeze, was coming in duty-free.

The minister last August asked the board to examine the case for a possible tariff boost and at the same time measure the spread between the manufacturer's price and what the consumer pays for the product.

Selling Wave Hits New York, Prices Tumble

NEW YORK (AP)—A selling wave hit the stock market today. Losses of a point were common, and some oils and railroads dropped two to three points or more.

The drop in rail stocks sent rail averages to a low for the year.

Wall Street observers said some of today's selling was due to technical factors. Also mentioned was the present "tight money" situation, which is deflationary.

Wider losses included: Amerada Petroleum, off 5⅝; Southern Railway, 4; Seaboard Air Line Railroad, 2½; Illinois Central, 2⅞; Northern Pacific, 3⅛; Chrysler, 2⅛ and Republic Steel, 1⅛.

Canadian stocks were lower. Canadian Pacific and International Nickel slipped ⅜, Dome Mines and Distillers Seagram, ⅛ and Hiram Walker, ¼.

On the American stock exchange, Lake Shore, Giant Yellowknife and Royalite Oil dropped ⅛.

Also Turn Downward

[illegible] kets, the Vancouver stock exchange exhibited weakness this forenoon.

Beaver Lodge dropped 14 cents to 1.06. National Exploration was down four to 49 at noon.

Oils, Base Metals Down 2 at Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Prices dipped sharply toward the close of today's stock market trading. Losses ranged to more than two points in western oils and base metals.

Western oils dipped sharply in early afternoon to become the weakest group in the market. Industrials and golds showed a majority of losses but none severe.

Among the heaviest losers in base metals was Hudson Bay which went to a new low for the year of $40 on a drop of $1.25. Included in the slide were Consolidated Smelters, Dominion Asbestos, Falconbridge and Eastern Metals.

In Western oils the pattern was similar. Fargo, Canada Southern, Peruvian, Trans-Empire and Gridoil slipped as much as 40 cents. The section as a whole was at its lowest index level in two years.

Uraniums and New Brunswick base metals declined abruptly. Gunnar, Chimo, Anacon and Brunswick lost between 50 and 55 cents each.

London Stocks Firm, Bonds Up Slightly

LONDON (Reuters)—A quiet firmness pervaded the London stock exchange today.

Austrian, German and Polish bonds improved while in the Far Eastern group Japanese showed rises of up to two points. Chinese were firm.

British government securities went slowly ahead to small fractional gains. The industrial market, however, generally remained quiet.

South African gold shares were firm while base metals and commodities showed little change.

New Impetus In Effort To Bring Industry Here

Efforts to attract industry to Greater Victoria have gained strength and direction during recent days.

Ten days ago the inter-municipal committee of Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt councils created a special industrial development subcommittee. This group has been assigned the vital but considerable task of answering questions about sites, facilities, labor force, and so on, asked by manufacturers who desire to establish a plant here.

On the subcommittee are Ald. Don Smith of Victoria, prime mover in the forming of the new group, Reeve Joseph Casey of Saanich, Reeve A. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt and Clr. Fred Norris of Oak Bay.

LIMITED BY FINANCES

Heretofore a man-sized attempt has been made by Victoria Chamber of Commerce to provide such a service but the chamber's financial position limited the amount it could do, especially in pre-selling the manufacturer on Greater Victoria's advantages as a site for his plant.

The inter-municipal committee's action was welcomed by Chamber of Commerce's industrial development group at its annual meeting at Pacific Club Monday afternoon. The new subcommittee's request for data and for the "background" of the VCC effort was immediately and enthusiastically granted.

A special committee, composed of VCC past president T. G. Denny, director W. C. Mearns and industrial development group's immediate past chairman A. D. Baillie was appointed by the 1953-54 chairman Gordon J. Roper.

KNOW THE PROBLEMS

This trio, all well versed in the difficulties surrounding the stimulating of industrial activity hereabouts, will prepare a brief outlining the chamber group's past activities, the data it has compiled, and the problems it has encountered in its efforts to bring industry to Greater Victoria.

Intention is that the brief will be endorsed by the VCC industrial development group and the chamber directorate before going to the inter-municipal committee. In its final form, therefore, it will be an authentic statement of the chamber's experiences and will point the way—if only by implication—to means to effectively promote industrial expansion here.

At this moment, then, there can be considerable optimism about increased effectiveness in the effort to expand Greater Victoria's industrial activity.

EVERYONE BENEFITS

It has been said that every industrial employee helps to support seven others in the community. Even if this is an exaggeration there can be no doubt at all that the more payroll dollars in circulation the better.

The current signs of an impending expansion in Greater Victoria's efforts to attract industrial payrolls here should be welcomed by all who make their living here, whether merchants, medicos or millworkers.

MALKIN'S TO BUILD ESQUIMALT PLANT

A 56,000 square foot ultra-modern grocery, produce, fruit and vegetable warehouse will be built at 846 Viewfield Road, Esquimalt by the W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd.

Dominion Construction Co. Ltd. crews today are preparing the site. The warehouse and its enclosed five-car railway siding are scheduled for completion late in September.

Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele today is "very pleased indeed" at Malkin's decision to build in Esquimalt. "We're glad to welcome industry to our growing community," he said.

The W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd. is a wholly owned subsidiary of Western Grocers Ltd., Winnipeg, an all-Canadian firm.

A. G. Landels, the firm's Greater Victoria manager, says the new warehouse expresses Malkin's "great faith in the expanding Greater Victoria market."

While reluctant to reveal the ultimate expenditure, he said a "very large sum is involved."

Malkin's currently operates from a five-story warehouse at 1252 Wharf Street.

When the Esquimalt warehouse is in operation the firm will add produce, fruit and vegetables to the staple groceries on which it now concentrates.

The Viewfield Road warehouse will be a solid, controlled-temperature one-story concrete building, windowless except in the portion devoted to offices.

NEW CHAIRMAN of Victoria Chamber of Commerce industrial development group is Gordon J. Roper, B.C. Electric's industrial and commercial sales representative in Greater Victoria and last year's vice-chairman. Second in command this year will be J. Denis Hagar, managing-director of Hagar Investments Ltd. A. D. Baillie, managing-director of Columbia Carpet Co. Ltd., headed the group for a time last year after chairman A. J. Cowie, E. & N. superintendent, was transferred to a similar post at Penticton.

Freight Rates Question Under Study by Group

Greater Victoria's case for removal of rail freight rate inequities was being considered by top CNR and CPR officials in Chamber of Commerce boardroom today.

Arranged by VCC's freight-rates group, headed by F. W. Hawes, the private conference has brought together 30 local businessmen and the railways' western Canada freight traffic managers, CPR's H. Arkle, CNR's G. N. McMillan. Both have their headquarters in Winnipeg.

Mayor Claude L. Harrison and City Manager C. C. Wyatt attended this forenoon's discussions, emphasizing the importance Victoria places on freight-rate equality.

Today's conference grew from a Board of Transport Commission suggestion that obvious inequities in freight-rate structure should be discussed with Victoria shippers by the railways. The Transport Board proposal was made March 17 during a public hearing here into the railways' application for a rate increase. Final decision on the application has not yet been anounced.

The conference in VCC boardroom began at 9.30 and adjourned just before noon until 2 p.m.

Occupants of Topaz Huts, an emergency housing development of the city, will be given 30-day notices to move and the huts demolished, City Council agreed Monday.

Swiss Men Again Reject Giving Vote to Women

GENEVA (AP). — For the fourth time in 32 years, Geneva's all-male electorate Sunday turned down a constitutional amendment which would permit women to vote in local elections.

The amendment had the support of all political parties except the Radical—which despite its name is conservative. The vote was 17,967 against and 13,419 in favor.

Only 51 per cent of the men eligible to vote turned out at the polls. Women haven't the right to vote anywhere in Switzerland, the last country in Europe to keep the "men only" sign on the voting booth.

OTTAWA REGRETS VICTORIA'S INVITATION TO IKE GOT LOST

City of Victoria's invitation to President Eisenhower to visit Victoria Aug. 6 got lost in the secretary of state's office at Ottawa.

City council at its meeting Monday were advised by letter from Ottawa that the invitation, sent many weeks ago, had been "inadverently mislaid." Regret was expressed.

It was suggested the mayor write a formal letter which would be directed to the president, through the Canadian Embassy. Council agreed to this.

For weeks Mayor Claude Harrison has been wondering what happened to the city's invitation.

Proposed Law to Charge for Fire Sprinklers Held Over

Attempt by Ald. William Pinfold to have much-criticized amendment to the city water by-law repealed failed at City Council meeting Monday.

The by-law amendment passed Feb. 26 called for installation of detector meters and a service charge on sprinklered water systems and stand-by pipes for fire protection.

Business, industry and Chamber of Commerce have protested and both Ald. Pinfold and Ald. Arthur Dowell of the public works committee oppose the by-law. They were out of the city when the by-law passed.

Council did not want to throw the entire by-law out and design a new one as requested. A suggestion to leave the matter until next council meeting passed unanimously.

Aldermen wanted an opportunity to read a brief by City Engineer Cyril Jones, who disagrees with the public works committee. He feels a service charge for stand-by pipes and sprinklered systems should be levied.

"The city should encourage its taxpayers to put in fire protective services such as sprinkler systems, rather than penalize them," said Ald. Pinfold. "The fire chief would like to see more firms with such fire protective services."

One large Victoria firm, he said, paid $50,000 to install a sprinkler system. The new by-law amendment will cost the firm $5,000 plus $1,000 annually, Ald. Pinfold said.

"Yet they are lessening the fire hazard for the whole district."

He agreed some measures should be taken to prevent illegal use of water, designed solely for fire protection. He contended, however, there should be no meters or service charge on sprinklered systems, which would be used in event of fire.

City Asks Outside Legal Advice On $450,000 Nursing Home

Outside legal advice will be sought by the city on steps necessary to permit erection of a $450,000 addition to Victoria Nursing Home on Gorge Road.

The controversial issue, long bogged down in a welter of legal and technical problems, came before City Council meeting Monday.

The vote was 5-1 for outside legal advice advocated by Ald. Waldo Skillings. Ald. Robert Macmillan opposed and Mayor Claude Harrison did not vote.

The mayor contended in a letter to council that the city would be acting illegally if it finally passed a by-law to give $150,000 to the Victoria Nursing Home Society as the city's share of the 104-bed addition.

WRONG PRINCIPLE

At the same time the mayor said it should be the duty of the government to look after all chronically ill cases. He termed the principle "wrong and unjust" wherein a person once termed a chronic is no longer covered by B.C. Hospital Insurance.

Ald. Skillings asked for outside legal advice in order "to protect council and the mayor" and at the same time expedite building of the addition.

"We are full at the Nursing Home on Gorge Road and when the provincial and federal governments are willing to grant in excess of $300,000 toward the building, it seems to me the legal requirements can be met," the alderman said.

"Up to now council has not been given legal advice as to what is proper," he contended.

The mayor in his letter said city solicitor Arthur Patton objected to the by-law which calls for turning over of city funds to a private corporation.

The by-law after third reading and first passing was sent to the department of municipal affairs for their perusual. Mr. Patton felt nothing could be done until the government ruled on the by-law.

Ald. Skillings disagreed. Whether it was approved or not, he said council should have advice on how to proceed and avoid further delays.

WOULD TAKE ALL

The mayor filed a letter Monday in which Mother Prioress Cecilia Mary of St. Mary's Priory said she was "ready and willing to receive all the patients" from the Victoria Nursing Home.

Ald. Margaret Christie said there were only 24 nursing home beds licensed at the Priory, of which eight are occupied. She stated there are 41 patients at the Victoria Nursing Home on Gorge Road.

Ald. Skillings said in addition 18-20 people are waiting to get into the Home.

COUNCIL GETS BRONX CHEER

Request by Joe North for permission to distribute band concert programs in Beacon Hill Park this summer was turned down by city council at its meeting Monday.

Mr. North addressed council, but not before a chair was brought for him.

"Get me a chair, I'm tired," he remarked.

Once seated, he advised council he got nothing out of the programs but "a kick out of giving them to mothers, kiddies, the old man and old woman" in the park. He said he had been doing it for 60 years since he was 16.

Ald. Waldo Skillings asked him if he were going to solicit advertising. Mr. North said yes. On being refused, he emitted his well-known sound of derision which has been called a "razzberry."

"Come back here," the manager yelled. "Just because your name's on paper doesn't mean it can't be erased. That's what erasers are on pencils for."

Hodges 'Hep' as Tyees Tip Broncs

Great Relief Performance; Moniz Knocks in Winning Run

Victoria 5, Lewiston 4

By BILL WALKER

A warm night . . . the league-leading Lewiston Broncs in town . . . the Tyees still a threat for first-half honors . . . and only 800 or so fans. That was the Western International League picture at Athletic Park Monday night.

It wasn't very encouraging and not nearly as bright as the game itself, which was marked by glittering relief pitching and fine clutch fielding and batting before the Tyees edged the Broncs, 5-4, in 11 innings.

The biggest cluster of glory shone on two Tyees pitcher Berlyn Hodges and left-fielder Bob Moniz.

Hodges, the home-grown left-hander, came on in the ninth with two Lewiston runners on base, the score tied at 4-4, only one out and the always-dangerous Clint Cameron at bat. He got Cameron on a ground ball and clean-up batter Bob Williams on an infield tap to second to retire the side.

From then Hodges hurled hitless ball, though walking two, one purposely, which paid off in a double play in the 10th.

Moniz, who cracked out three hits, earned his hero's mantle for his clutch single in the 11th, which scored Jim Clark from second with the winning run.

Lewiston took the lead in the first inning on an unearned run. Al Heist was safe on an error by Herman Charles, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Williams' first of two hits.

Lost in the Sky Triple

In the second the Broncs increased their margin to 3-0 when Moniz lost Heist's fly ball in the evening sky. The blow went for a triple, scoring two runs. A second error by Charles and Heist's second triple which Gale Taylor only barely missed catching off the right centre-field wall accounted for Lewiston's fourth run in the fourth.

Earl Dollins, who started for the Tyees, then shut the gate until relieved for pinch-hitter Lu Branham in the seventh. Zeb Walker came on to replace Dollins, but was pulled in favor of Hodges in the ninth after walking pinch-hitter Bill Brenner and giving up a single to Mel Walsey.

The Tyees got to Russ Butler of the Broncs for their first tally in the third, Moniz and Don Pries putting together a pair of doubles.

Three runs in the seventh tied the score. Charles started the uprising with a walk. Milt Martin singled and Clark singled home Charles after Martin was forced by Branham. Don Pries beat out a high bouncing infield hit to load the bases. When the Broncs elected to try for the double play by way of second on Moniz' ground ball, Branham scored. Clark crossed the plate on the same play as Glen Tuckett's relay to first was into the dirt.

The Tyees threatened off Don Carter, who relieved Butler in the ninth, but Manny Perez put out the conflagration, coming in with two men on base and one out to halt the Tyees.

Perez showed a lot of stomach again in the 10th when he continued in the game after stopping a terrific line drive from Charles with the wrist of his pitching arm.

In the 11th, Hodges drew a walk which eventually led to the winning tally. He was forced at second by Clark's attempted sacrifice, Clark later going to second on an infield out, from where he scored on Moniz' ground single to right field.

Tonight, it should be like old home week as Jawin' John Marshall is scheduled to work for the Broncs against Bob Drilling of the Tyees.

Game time is 8.

Mantle Shares Two Firsts in AL Bat Race

NEW YORK (AP)—A lot of nice things have been said about Mickey Mantle's ability and the youngster is out to prove it's all true.

The Yankee phenom, getting hotter with the weather, has zoomed into a tie for first place in both batting and runs batted in in the American League.

The 21-year-old outfielder banged out 13 hits in 29 trips to the plate last week to boost his batting mark 20 points to .347 and a tie with Washington's Mickey Vernon and Boston's George Kell. Getting the hits when they were needed, Mick has driven in 39 runs for a tie for first in that department with another Senator, Clyde Vollmer.

Canucks Edge Tribe in 10th

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—The Vancouver Capilanos took a close 6-3 win in the 10th inning from the Spokane Indians Monday in a Western International League game.

In the 10th, Frank Mascaro opened with a single off pitcher John Cordell's leg. He was sacrificed to second, and K. Chorlton was intentionally passed to first. Mascaro then scored on Jim Wert's single.

The Caps added insurance runs when Chuck Davis singled to right field, bringing in Chorlton and Wert.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa.—Lee Sala, 164, Donora, O., outpointed Charley Williams, 155, Newark, N.J., 10.

King Not to Happy But Still Lifts Title

TORONTO (BUP) — Li'l Arthur King had to admit today he wasn't very comfortable wearing his Canadian lightweight crown again.

The boos of old hometown fans still rang in his ears as the dusky King discounted his unanimous 12-round title decision over champion Armand Savoie as "an awful showing."

"That was one hell of a title fight," he said. "I must be rusty after a layoff, but Savoie wasn't too lively either."

Savoie, 24-year-old Montrealer who won the vacant title two years ago when King failed to defend it after moving to Philadelphia, was just as unhappy.

"I couldn't hit him. I tried to make a fight out of it while King clutched, but I just don't know why I couldn't get in and punch," he said.

Some 7,000 fans who had paid more than $12,000 to see the ballyhooed "two-title match" were filing out of Maple Leaf Gardens by the 11th round after their boos and referee Bobby Laurence's urging had failed to spark as much energy as they had seen in the preliminaries.

King didn't throw more than a dozen good punches, and Savoie's usual bulldog tactics did not shake his 25-year-old opponent once.

Both fighters said they were fresh and unhurt, and both were ready for a rematch to prove that things weren't really that bad. Blinky Palermo, King's manager, said he was willing to try again in Montreal.

"Every good fighter has the odd bad night," Blinky said philosophically, "but jeez, for both of them to pick the same night . . ."

Trainer Jimmy Wilson, who had watched Arthur rack up 60 wins in 68 pro fights, said flatly he had never seen him like that before.

Copley Bros. Take Lead

Copley Bros. downed Individuals, 4-3, in a Senior Women's Softball League contest at Central Park Monday night and took sole possession of first place.

Sheila Moseley hurled six-hit ball for the winners while Ruth Oster allowed eight hits for the Vids.

Mona Gee plated Pat Wright with a triple in the bottom of the seventh with what proved to be the winning run after Individuals had tied the score in the top half of the inning.

Sidney Merchants will be out to close the gap between the third-place club and the league leaders tonight when they are scheduled to meet Pitt & Holt at Lower Central Park at 6.30.

Jim Jeffries knocked out Bob Fitzsimmons in the 11th round at Coney Island, N.Y., 54 years ago tonight to win the world's heavyweight boxing championship. Jeffries retired in 1905 after a six-year rule during which he beat Fitzsimmons a second time and twice defeated former champion Jim Corbett.

Lowe's Three Homers Not Quite Enough

What does one man have to do to pace his team to victory in the Senior "B" Softball League?

Monday night Chinese Students' shortstop Bobby Lowe smashed three home runs but his team wound up in a 14-14 stalemate after playing 14 innings against Esquimalt Athletics at Heywood Avenue Park.

Lowe poled his four-baggers in the first, fifth and 13th innings, the latter giving Students a 14-12 lead. Esquimalt catcher Jack Lequesne evened the count in the 13th with a two-run circuit smash.

A scheduled exhibition double-header between B.C. senior "C" champion Mayo Giants and Joe Fosters' of the senior "B" loop Sunday was rained out.

PICTURE ALTERED

Browns May Yet Move To Baltimore

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—We can tell you on some of the best authority there is that the transfer of St. Louis Browns to Baltimore will be approved when the American League magnates hold their next meeting in Cincinnati July 13.

The success of Milwaukee's debut as a big league city has altered the picture radically, our informant says. Where only two clubs, Cleveland and Chicago, voted to approve the transfer last spring, the count should be virtually unanimous this time.

Some of the owners still will not like Bill Veeck, the Brownie president, any better than they did in March and the feeling will be strongly reciprocated, but the rival league's Milwaukee venture has convinced them they are missing a bet. They like money, and they are not getting it in St. Louis.

One report is that a Baltimore group is prepared to pay Veeck and his associates more than $2,000,000 for the franchise.

Oak Bay in Fifth Win

Oak Bay Merchants posted their fifth straight Greater Victoria Lacrosse Association Junior League victory at Stevenson Park Monday night by downing a listless Joker squad 12-1.

The win gave Oak Bay a six-point lead over second-place Esquimalt and a 10-point spread over winless Jokers.

Joker's goalie, Chummy Crabbe, turned in a polished performance despite the loss and blocked a total of 43 shots during the game, 15 in the first quarter.

Murray Reid scored four goals to lead Tigers to a 10-3 victory over Fairoaks in Diaper League play, and Blue Bombers nipped Esquimalt 7-5 on the strength of a four-goal scoring splurge by Jack Crabbe.

DOUBLE-HEADERS TO BE PLAYED

WI Moguls Approve Schedule Changes

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Directors of the Western International Baseball League solved one problem with some quick changes in schedules and shrugged off another to the weather at their meeting here Monday.

The directors dealt with the problem of 44 rained-out games by adding them to the second half of the split schedule which starts July 3. The missed games will be absorbed by making double-headers out of single dates and filling previously-open Monday dates.

"I had an idea all along that the solution would be easier than everyone had expected," said Robert Brown, WIL president.

"Once we got together with our schedules, the dates were fixed up in no time."

Brown and the league directors said the league drop in attendance was due directly to the same wet weather which had canceled so many games. Most felt the drop wasn't as bad as could have been expected and all agreed warm, dry weather should set the turnstiles spinning.

One of the 10 members—Brown did not say which—proposed that the split season, with playoff between the winners, be abandoned for a continuous schedule.

"We argued the man out of it by convincing him that there would be more sustained interest under the split-season plan," Brown said.

PROFANITY OUT

Before the directors adjourned, the WIL head emphasized two points which he has stressed repeatedly: That all profanity on the field by players, managers and umpires, and any cases of fraternizing among players or managers on rival clubs be reported to the league headquarters immediately.

There will be a sharp warning the first time his office hears of these offences, Brown said. The next time there will be a heavy fine.

Record Ball Regained By Yanks

NEW YORK (BUP)—The stolen baseball which outfielder Mickey Mantle hit for a record 562 feet at Washington this spring has been returned to the New York Yankees.

The ball which Mantle powered out of Griffith Stadium on April 17, was stolen from its showcase at Yankee Stadium on May 31.

Monday, Yankee officials announced that two teen-aged boys had returned the ball last Saturday. The boys said two older youths gave them the ball.

The ball—and the bat which Mantle used to hit the record homer—will be shipped to the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown Tuesday.

ETTINGER SIGNS

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four football loop Monday signed Red Ettinger, their all-star centre, to a 1953 contract. Terms were not disclosed.

LIONS OPEN GRID TRAINING

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The British Columbia Lions, 1954 entrants in the Western Football Conference, held their first workout here Monday night with 34 prospects on the field. Coach Annis Stukus predicted an even larger turnout tonight.

Mat Program Features All-Star Card

Wrestling promoter Ken Williamson, who last week threatened to shut down activities until the fall because of poor attendance, has announced that he will operate again this week because Seattle has given him what he calls an all-star card.

Eight main-eventers will participate in Thursday night's mat mayhem with Dave Jons and Danno MacDonald taking on Red Vagnogne and Don Kindred in a tag-team main event for the Pacific Northwest tag-team trophy.

Eric "The Great" Pederson will lock holds with Luther Lindsay in the semi-main while Rey Urbano takes on Angello Poffo in the opener.

This week is "ladies' night" with all escorted ladies being admitted free.

SNEAD, HOGAN GUYS TO BEAT, SAYS BURKE

'The Old Man's Open' Opens

OAKMONT, Pa. (UP) — Young Jackie Burke went out today to try to win "the old man's open."

That's how the handsome ex-marine described the U.S. Open golf championship as it started at Oakmont Country Club. And it was an apt description, when you consider that the co-favorites at 6 to 1 are veterans Ben Hogan and Sammy Snead.

Hogan has won this one three times and, although he will be 41 in August, still is an implacable killer on the fairways. Snead was 41 last January and, while he never has been able to come through in the big one, you still can't count him out.

"They're the ones," Burke grinned. "This is one course for the old guys. You have to beat them if you want to win it. This is a right rough layout and therefore it favors them. They hit shots by instinct that the younger fellows have to think about.

"And, at least in my case, any time I start thinking I'm a gone duck. I can't seem to play it cagey. I have to bang it up there for the flag and hope for the best."

The secret behind the favoritism of Hogan and Snead is that both are great putters, Burke insisted.

"The greens here are murderous," he explained. "When you hit a putt it's 75 per cent speed and only 25 per cent direction. And no matter what anybody says, both Ben and Sam are terrific with that old putter."

According to curly-haired Jackie, the men with the long drives and the radar putters are going to be battling for this one—and the toughest part of it is trying to sink those five to eight-footers on the green.

"You leave it five feet from the bucket on your first putt and you really have to bear down to get it home," he sighed. "Then when you walk over to the next tee you're trembling like a schoolgirl. You feel like you just went 10 rounds with Rocky Marciano. The guy who gets it close the first time can relax."

While explaining his theories on the practice green, Jackie lobbed a 40-foot putt which looked like it was six feet wide, but as it seemed to be rolling to a stop the ball trickled at right angles and almost dropped into the cup.

"See what I mean?" he chuckled.

Burke, at 30 one of the youngsters of the tournament brigade, admitted that he would "really like to win this one."

"I was married last year, so now I have to play twice as hard," he said. "Well we're going to have a baby in September, so now I'll have to play three times as hard."

And the "old guys" make it tough. Last year, Burke explained, he wasn't playing as well as he is now. Yet, last year he won five tournaments.

"This year I've won one," he said. "Sometimes its tight getting out of the hotel." And this one is going to be really rough. It's that kind of a tournament—and that kind of a gallery. The fans love to see blood, just like at a prize fight. They like to see you buried in the sand or in the rough behind a tree.

"And," he said with that old bobby-sox smile, "Oakmont sure provides all that."

Reds on Win Spree

Hornsby Breathes Easier

Rogers Hornsby, reported on the skids as manager of Cincinnati as recently as a week ago, was riding high today with a five-game winning streak and the sluggingest club in the majors.

With the advent of June, the hit-happy Redlegs have busted out all over. They've pulverized opposition pitching for 65 hits in their last five games, producing 46 runs in their longest victory string of the season.

On their current road trip the Redlegs are playing at a .750 clip, winning six of eight including an 8-5 verdict Monday night over Brooklyn Dodgers.

BRAVES WIN

Cincinnati's success was a bitter pill for the Dodgers, who slipped a full game behind Milwaukee Braves. The Dodgers had started the day only seven percentage points back of the [illegible] the Braves plastered New York Giants 12-8.

St. Louis Cardinals, who had lost five straight, battled 12 innings against Pittsburgh Pirates, winless in their last four starts, before picking up a 5-3 victory. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 7-[illegible] in the other National League game.

TIGERS WIN ONE

In the only American League contest the Detroit Tigers finally won a game after 13 setbacks interspersed with two extra-inning ties. The Tigers scored four runs in the seventh inning to whip Boston, 6-3, their first success since May 22.

A single by Walt Dropo brought home one run and two more scored on a triple by Matt Batts in the victory rally. Ned Garver was the winner.

Cincinnati got ahead in a hurry at Brooklyn, scoring twice in the first inning on Bell's two-run homer and then adding five more in the fourth on five singles, including a two-run blow by Bell, and a pair of walks.

SURE STAN'S WORRIED AS BUSINESS FALLS OFF

BROOKLYN (AP)—Even the greatest athletes worry when they're not doing what is expected of them, and Stan Musial is no exception.

The St. Louis Cardinal star, in the throes of one of the worst batting slumps of his career, is far from frantic over his lowly .247 mark. But he admits he is worried.

"Suppose you were in business and it fell off 50 per cent," he asked. "Wouldn't you worry? Well, baseball is my business and I would say my work has fallen off 50 per cent this year."

Musial's frank appraisal of himself is typical of Stan the man. He gave no excuses. He doesn't blame his batting slump on injuries. The poor weather hasn't affected him.

"I just haven't been hitting the way I should," he said. "My timing is off. Don't ask me why. I just don't know."

Rocks Open Crucial Series Minus Booth

Victoria Shamrocks can obscure the rest of the Intercity Lacrosse League teams with their own dust if their Irish luck [illegible].

The first-place Rocks, who are four points ahead of Vancouver Pils, can pick up six points as they face one of the most crucial parts of their league schedule.

They start the vital set tonight when they meet the Pils at Kerrisdale Arena. They are at home Wednesday against PNE Indians, the only club that has given the Rocks any trouble this season. Indians have twice beaten the Irish in Vancouver, but, like the other league teams, have been unable to win at the Memorial Arena.

The impotent New Westminster Salmonacs close out the week's activity when they meet the Rocks here Friday night.

Shamrocks will have only one-third of their high-scoring production line in harness tonight as Larry Booth joins Archie Browning on the injured list.

Booth received a cut leg when involved in an auto accident over the week-end, while Browning is still nursing a broken bone in his hand. Whitey Severson and Al Gill will start on the first forward line, but coach Red McMillan was undecided Monday who the third man would be.

Jackie Northup, Arnie Ferguson and Sarge Sammatino were slated to form the second line with Duff McCaghay, Harry Irwin and Bob Monaghan on the third attacking unit.

Tommy Druce and Bill Bamford form one defensive unit with Bob Anderson and Jackie Thompson partnered on the other line.

Jumbo Jim Hetherington will start in goal, backed up by Dave Unwin.

Latest scoring statistics show that Severson is still the league's big gun with 50 points in 11 games. The Irish playmaker [illegible] is 11 points ahead of Booth, who has 25 goals and 14 assists.

Browning, former leader before his accident, has been displaced in third place by Nanaimo's big John Lumley, who is tied with Booth for the league lead in goals and has seven assists. Lumley is miles ahead in the penalty column, having served 67 minutes in 12 games.

Browning is fourth with 29 points, while Northup is tied with Indians' Lew Landess with 27 points.

Wiebe Hurls Fourth Win As Gasmen Share Lead

Capital City 6, Butlers 0

The senior A men's softballers finally got going again after a three-day layoff due to inclement weather. But the lull in the schedule didn't put a damper on Capital City Gasmen as they won 6-0 over Butler Bros.' Aces Monday night for their sixth straight game without a loss.

Ab Wiebe threw a six-hit shutout at the Aces to move his team into a tie for first place.

It was Wiebe's fourth win of the season against no losses, and the second time he has blanked the Aces. Wiebe also gained credit for a 12-inning 4-4 tie with the Aces in which he pitched 11 innings.

John Furmston went the route for the suburbanites but after being a victim of an unfortunate error in the third inning by Ronnie Benn, never seemed to regain his poise.

Both teams played scoreless ball for the first two frames, Wiebe opening the third with a walk.

Bill Reynolds tried to sacrifice him along but finally had to hit away and bounced one over Furmston's head that took a bad bounce just as Hal Yardley tried to field it.

Both runners were safe and Bernie Clarkson followed with a sacrifice bunt down the first base line. Benn fielded the ball cleanly and could have retired the lead runner at third but no one was there to cover the throw.

He looked at second and threw to the man standing by the bag, but that individual happened to be base umpire Len Duncan who was dressed according to regulations, which is almost the same color as the Aces.

The ball rolled to deep left field, two runs came in, Clarkson ending up on third, from where he scored after Jimmy Morrison's fly to centre.

The Gasmen practically sewed up the ball game in the fifth inning after the first two batters were easy outs.

Les Wilson worked Furmston for a walk and the next four batters singled sharply to drive in the three final runs.

Wiebe got in a jam in the sixth after giving up two hits but was never in danger again over the final three innings.

Chinese Students get a chance tonight to break the tie for first when they meet the Navy, and the bluejackets need a win in the worst way if they intend to stay in the race for a playoff spot.

Ladysmith are in the basement with a number of games in hand and are only five points [illegible] fourth place.

Game time tonight is 6.45 at Central Park.

Short score follows:

Unknown Pro Blisters Par

OAKMONT, Pa. (AP) — A young, unknown professional from Long Island turned monster Oakmont into a drooling kitten Monday as 299 golfers took final tune-ups for the 36-hole qualifying test in the National Open.

Bill Collins, from Great Neck, N.Y., who will be making his first Open bid today, shot around the front side of the 6,917-yard layout in 29 strokes, eight under par.

Oakmont, steaming under a hot sun, fought back with its tenacious rough on the back side, sending Collins soaring to a 39 for a four-under-par round of 68, but nboody has ever subjected the historic layout to the indignities it had to suffer for the first nine holes.

It was the best nine holes by three strokes ever played on the course.

O.C. CRICKET

Middlesex 364, Yorkshire 228 for five.
Surrey 341 for nine declared, Northamptonshire 160 and 105 for two.

Enchanting Gracie's Golden Voice Belies Bright Silver in Her Hair

Her hair has turned to silver but there's youth in her twinkling eyes and lovely voice.

Gracie Fields, who has been cutting capers and strutting the stage for 40 years, displayed a wide variety of articles from her bag of tricks for the 3,252 who paid to see her at Memorial Arena Monday night.

She paraded, kicked, squirmed and even let loose a few shimmies to get across her comic pieces, and then, socko, before the audience had time to wipe away the tears of joy, brought tears of emotion with a sentimental ballad sung as she stood quite still, head bowed.

The lass from Lancashire brought forth a spirit of reverence with her dignified rendition of "Bless This House," "Ave Marie" and "The Lord's Prayer." The vast arena might have been a cathedral as the people sat entranced.

But when Gracie took her fancy handkerchief, tied it around her neck choker fashion; leered at the front-row benches with one eye closed and started to tell of "Fred Fanacapan," it was an entirely different matter. The place became an old country music hall.

During the two hour performance Gracie not only trotted out "Fred" for an airing, but mugged her way through such other favorites as "Walter," "Johnny Hockabee," "Grandfather's Bagpipes" and "I Never Cried So Much In All My Life."

In the field of popular tunes she breezed through Danny Kaye's "Ugly Duckling," skipped through Mary Martin's "Wonderful Guy" and provided several interpretations of such hit-paraders as "Why Don't You Believe Me" and "You Belong to Me."

A special Coronation threesome, including the new "We'll Pray for You," was well received but it took the medley of wartime favorites to get the audience singing too.

WEARS THE PURPLE

Miss Fields wore high-platformed shoes and appeared during the first act in a pink strapless evening gown. She changed during intermission to a purple gown "just to show we're not doing so bad."

She was accompanied by Gordon Watson of Winnipeg.

Miss Fields shrugged off any suggestion that her current tour was intended as a farewell gesture. She made it clear she intends to keep singing "just as long as the old pipes hold out."

The pipes showed no sign of any strain. She can still reach the high ones and raise the roof when a ruckus roar is required. Incidentally, this trouper has the best diction when delivering a straight song as anybody in the business.

TWO for the SHOW

(BB) "MISSISSIPPI GAMBLER" (Odeon): After almost two full decades on the screens of Hollywood and on Broadway's stage, Tyrone Power is recognized as among the most able actors of our times. But for him to show at his best he must have a matching play and co-stars.

"Mississippi Gambler" and Mistress Piper Laurie are not the media.

The play itself has its tense and exciting moments to be sure, but the plot is of uneven structure with the low points—made up of wordy dialogue and emoting in general — far outnumbering the high points.

And as for Miss Laurie! She is intolerably mis-matched with Power. He is a finished performer while the Piper looked like the kid next door dressed up in her mother's clothes and doesn't know quite where to go from there.

The plot in brief:

Power is a gambler on [illegible] Mississippi River boats—but an honest one. In New Orleans he bumps into Piper, her papa and dissolute brother. Although daddy thinks Ty is a bit of all right, sis and brother combine to dislike him [illegible] what. Indeed Piper marries another gentleman who has a bank of gold but a heart of knaves. Of course everything comes out in the end after much duelling, dying, kleptomania and poker playing.

In conclusion: The postwar Power is not the pretty boy of the pre-Second World War era. Now he's a handsome, rugged looking guy whose acting abilities have risen to a point that he needs only a spanking good picture and supporting cast to allow him to rise to the position to which his abilities warrant him.

On the same bill at the Odeon is a fine black-and-white newsreel covering the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth. It lasts about 18 or 20 minutes.

It serves as a magnificent preview of the J. Arthur Rank full-length feature, "A Queen Is Crowned" which opens at the Odeon on Thursday. Of course "A Queen Is Crowned" will be in Technicolor. The narration will be by Sir Laurence Olivier and should be tops.

BARBER'S TONIC?

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP)—The assembly of the California legislature has approved a bill that would permit patrons of barber shops to sip cold drinks while getting a trim.

The bill is designed to overthrow a ruling by the state attorney-general outlawing the sale of soft drinks in barber-shops.

Everest Pair Tells Actions On Top of Peak

LONDON (Reuters) — What happened in those historic moments May 29 when a New Zealander and his native guide stood on the peak of Mount Everest as the first conquerors of the world's highest mountain?

The Times says they ate mint cake, took photographs, waved a string of flags and prayed.

An editorial says Auckland beekeeper Edmund Hillary, 34, and his Nepalese guide, Tensing Bhutia, gazed down from the top of the world 29,002 feet high on a "flat and monotonous" view. They were too high for any grandiose mountain landscapes, it said.

The Times provided the first description of the exploit since word of the British expedition's success was flashed to London a week ago on the eve of the Coronation. The newspaper owns exclusive copyright to the expedition's story.

"OOPS! SORRY!"

NEW YORK (UP)—A hold-up man fleeing from a robbery fired a shot to scare pursuers and wounded his partner who was carrying the $1,200 payroll the two men had stolen from Ernest Oppenheimer.

Frank Hall, 20, the wounded man, was taken to Harlem hospital with a bullet in the abdomen.

Watching the length of your telephone calls is just one of the little courtesies that is making party line service smoother. East Lynne Provokes Tears of Laughter

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

"EAST LYNNE"

(Adapted from the novel by Mrs. Henry Wood)

Cast:

Lady Isabel Vane	Lois Gaither
Archibald Carlyle	Michael Rothery
Sir Francis Levison	Bill Artus
Cornelia Carlyle	Cynthia Ross
John Dill	Timothy Clarke
Raymond Vane	Robert Tabor
Emma Mount Severn	Diana Ricardo
Joyce	Angela Clarke
Barbara Hare	Diana Ricardo
Richard Hare	Robert Tabor

If you want to have fun, if you enjoy the kind of entertainment that is utterly naive and refreshingly corny because it is planned that way, "East Lynne," as presented by the new Drury Lane Players at the Langham Court Theatre, is the magic formula.

The old tear-jerker has 'em rolling again, but this time they're tears of laughter! The handful of people who saw the opening performance Monday night, guffawed, giggled, hissed and booed and gave every sign of having a wonderful time.

To tell the truth, the production was far from even but missed cues and memory lapses were treated with such frankness and sang-froid, that it was difficult at times to tell whether or not they were deliberate. An ad libbed rebuke hurled at the promoter, however, really gave the show a little additional savor.

VILLAIN VIRTUOSO

Style of mellerdrammer was particularly well sustained by Michael Rothery and Bill Artus. The latter is a shining acquisition who showed great agility by filling in as pianist, providing a musical theme for each character's entrance and then leaping to the stage to step into the villain's boots. Not only that, but he entered into the departing spirit of "Little Willie" at the end, a pathetic figure in nightgown and cap, uttering sepulchral groans and a smoker's cough.

Cynthia Ross turns up as a delightful burlesque actress in a role which she is sharing during the run with another Victoria Theatre Guild actress, Mary Jessup. Lois Gaither as the poor wronged heroine was Diana Ricardo achieved a striking contrast in a dual role. Robert Tabor had his hands full as director and doubling in two widely differing parts which he handled well.

As teamwork improves and the production is tightened and stepped up in pace, it will be as good as a light summer evening's entertainment as one could wish to find.

THIEF TAKES SHOWMAN'S GEAR; GOSLEY APPEALS FOR COSTUMES

Jerry Gosley, well-known Victoria entertainer, today appealed to the thief who raided his car Monday to return his theatrical costumes and make-up.

A large case containing Mr. Gosley's equipment was stolen.

"It's of no earthly use to the average person, but without it I'm sort of ham-strung for future performances," Mr. Gosley said.

He hopes the thief will somehow manage to bring or send the case to his address, 522 Beach Drive.

Leader of the "Smile Show" that toured the Korean front last year, Mr. Gosley was forced to borrow equipment to appear at a show in the Odd Fellows Hall Monday night. He has other shows billed, including one at a TB pavilion.

Wismer Libel Suit Against Writer, Magazine Held Up

VANCOUVER (CP)—Proceedings under Mr. Justice A. M. Manson's month-old "tell all" order against Blair Fraser and Maclean's magazine in Gordon S. Wismer's libel suit against them have been halted by the Court of Appeal until fall.

Mr. Fraser and his publishers are to appeal in September from Mr. Justice Manson's order that they give the fullest particulars of the libel the former attorney-general alleges was contained in Mr. Fraser's article of February 15, 1952, headed "B.C. Coalition Commits Suicide."

When he granted Mr. Wismer's request for the particulars, the judge stipulated that they must be given by June 9 or the defense would be struck out.

Senator J. W. DeB. Farris, counsel for Mr. Wismer, told the court Monday he is applying this week in Supreme Court for an order compelling Mr. Fraser to answer in a two-hour examination held in Toronto last month.

Mr. Wismer, alleging he was libelled as attorney-general in the B.C. coalition government defeated at the polls last June 12, is suing Maclean-Hunter Publications Co., Toronto, and the writer for unstated damages.

NO EXCUSE

CHICAGO (AP) — James Pharr, 25-year-old negro accused of draft-dodging, told the court he believed he was immune from service as a "descendant of Neanderthal man."

He told Judge Joseph Perry that he found a striking resemblance between the contours of his skull and a statue of a Neanderthal man at a Chicago museum.

Judge Perry wasn't impressed. "Five years," he said.

DUNCAN—Christopher Hugh Chamberlain Newton, 82, native of Lincolnshire, England, and chief of police in Winnipeg for 18 years, died Sunday in King's Daughters' Hospital.

Funeral will be held Wednesday at 2.30 p.m.

Mr. Newton retired from the Winnipeg force in 1934 and made his home in Cobble Hill. Surviving are three sons, Harold in Cobble Hill, and Hugh and Alfred, Winnipeg; two daughters, Mrs. Ada C. Muir, Cobble Hill, and Mrs. Dorothy Merritt, Chicago; one sister, Mrs. A. C. Renton, Calgary.

DEODORANT, CHIMP AND QUEEN

Use of Coronation TV Ads By U.S. Sets Off Feud

LONDON, June 8 (AP)—A new trans-Atlantic furore howled Monday over the commercials with which some United States networks punctuated British radio and television coverage of the Coronation. Critics got particularly hot about a chimpanzee that shared billing with the monarch.

British newspapers reported that one station "introduced a chimpanzee for advertising purposes during the showing of the Abbey service" and that "another cut in to publicize a deodorant just before the Queen received her Bible."

Across the Atlantic, television critic Jack Gould of the New York Times wrote that the "impeccable coverage" of the ceremony by the BBC "even survived the tasteless embelishments and outrageous behavior of some of the American networks."

The BBC asked its New York office for a full report on the commercials.

The non-commercial British network furnished its telefilms to the U.S. networks free, as a public service.

Hugh Carleton Green, assistant comptroller of the BBC overseas service, said the Americans agreed the ceremony in Westminster Abbey should be "free of commercials."

Too late for Agincourt

EVEN THE BOWMEN who toppled armor-plated knights at Agincourt would have been impressed by the range of a modern aluminum bow used at a recent British archery championship. It shot the winning arrow a distance of 353 yards. Made of a special alloy, the bow had a tensile strength of thirty-two tons!

While sturdy aluminum is playing an essential part in Canadian defence production for the free world, we're afraid the new aluminum bow is a little late for defence use in our atomic age. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Lions Club Offers Swim Pool to Esquimalt

A children's wading pool for Memorial Park was offered the municipality by Esquimalt Lions Monday night.

Council will investigate the cost of maintenance and health regulations before acceptance.

Planned for the site of the old tennis court the pool would be built by the Lions as a community service, according to a letter from A. S. Bowker, chairman of the Lions' boys and girls committee, who also spoke to the council on the matter.

Council decided to take the matter up with the municipal engineer and also with health authorities.

Work will start June 10 on reconstruction of Macaulay Bend on Esquimalt Road, long a sore-spot with Esquimalt motorists.

A protest from Brown's Nurseries whose gardens adjoin Bullen Park said that due to the proximity of a ball diamond "as many as 12 men and boys have been tramping our fields at once" seeking wild balls. Council voted to move the backstop from the vicinity of the flower beds.

A request for a grant by the Navy League on behalf of Esquimalt Sea Cadets was turned down by council, Reeve Wurtele registering the deciding vote.

Forshaw Area Sewer Will Cost $26,000

An estimated cost of $26,000 for proposed sewer construction in the Forshaw-Shirley area was revealed to Esquimalt council Monday night by consulting engineer H. Brockington.

Preparation of estimates and taking of surveys has been the latest step toward solving of sewage difficulties that have plagued residents of that area for three years.

Several plans have been tried and abandoned in an effort to correct septic tank difficulties that arose when excess run-off could not be absorbed by heavy clay deposits in the neighborhood. The resultant surface seepage was blamed for sickness and foul summertime odors.

QUESTION OF FINANCE

Now it is up to the council to decide on the method of financing the proposed sewer.

Municipal clerk J. W. Allen told council that the work could be done either under the rules of the municipal act or as a local improvement. He added that if the work were undertaken as a health measure, residents would have no say in whether it should be done or not.

Tenor of the meeting indicated that it would definitely be a health measure and a letter certifying the need would be sent by the medical health officer.

Whether the work will be done on a share basis or whether the 50 residents concerned will have to pay the full cost is not yet known. In any event it will be spread over a number of years and be charged in the form of increased taxes.

Councillor G. K. Sammon asked council to bear in mind the fact that the householders had already been put to considerable expense for septic tanks and corrective measures.

A group of concerned residents attended and gave heavy study to the new plans.

Hospital Patients, Hopeful Candidates, Politically Alert Oldsters Cast Ballots in Today's Provincial Election

Election day seemed to herald the arrival of summer in Victoria as the city experienced some of its really warm weather. Voting was fairly heavy this morning. In the first picture above, Fred Carver, 1062 Newport Avenue, St. Joseph's Hospital patient, is shown using the new portable polling booths being used for the first time. Poll clerk, Mrs. T. H. Smith, 1328 Clover Street, stands by. Mobile booths are designed to allow patients to cast their ballots while in bed instead of going to central polling place. Victoria Liberal candidates, Mrs. Nancy Hodges and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot were early voters at Margaret Jenkins School. They are seen in second picture at one of the new standardized, prefabricated polling booths being used in the city. In third picture, four-year-old Ernest Schoor, 2515 Ludgate Street, listens to his grandfather, Alfred Broste, who has just voted at John Street polling station. The youngster was about to receive an ice cream for being a good boy while "grandad" voted. In fourth picture, Tory Leader Deane Finlayson is shown relaxing after a hectic campaign. He is the only party leader in this area today. (Times Photos.)

INQUEST TO PROBE CYCLIST'S DEATH

Fractured Skull Fatal to Rider After Collision at Cook, Burdett

A coroner's jury Thursday morning will probe circumstances in the death of Peter Nicolson, 52, of 2006 Chambers, who died Monday night in hospital from injuries sustained earlier in the day in a traffic accident.

Inquest will be held at 10.30 a.m. at McCall Bros. funeral parlors.

Mr. Nicolson, an 18-year resident of this area, suffered a fracture at the base of the skull at 11.45 a.m. when the bicycle he was riding was in collision with a car at Cook and Burdett, city police reported.

Driver of the car was identified by police as Arthur Terry, 530 Dallas.

Dr. E. L. McNiven, who attended the injured man at Royal Jubilee Hospital, said Mr. Nicolson died at 10 p.m.

SECOND THIS YEAR

Mr. Nicolson was the second traffic accident fatality in Victoria this year. Three others died in Saanich accidents. Other sectors of Victoria and district have no deaths on their 1953 traffic accident records.

Members of his family said Mr Nicolson was riding to work to the Crystal Spring Beverage Co. Ltd. Police said he was going south on Cook, the car proceeding north and turning to go west on Burdett.

Born on the Shetland Islands, north of Scotland, he was at Asquith, Sask., for a time and moved to Sidney in 1935. He was employed at a Sidney dairy farm for 17 years.

Mr. Nicolson is survived in Victoria by his wife, Catherine; three daughters, Phyllis, Kathleen and Dorothy; two brothers, William and Walter, and one sister, Miss Christina Mary. Other brothers are Tom, in Australia, and Andrew, and a sister, Cecilia Jean, in the Shetland Islands.

Shots Fired in 80 Mph Chase; Driver Fined

One of Two Racers Escapes Policemen

Caught after a wild 80-mph chase, in which Saanich policemen fired warning shots Monday night, Ronald George Stone, 647 Niagara, got a one-year license suspension with a $50 fine from Magistrate H. C. Hall in the municipal court today.

Court was told that Constables Robert Coleman and Fred Post, in a police car, pursued two racing cars on Douglas.

One of the drivers turned off Douglas and the police car kept on after the one remaining. Police kept their siren screaming and two shots were fired, but ignored by the pursued driver.

The chase went east on Tolmie and continued in the Quadra-Finlayson area. The police car was gaining and Stone finally braked and skidded off the road at Tolmie and Quadra.

Police said his comment when arrested was "Okay, so I got smart with the cops."

Manitoba Election Shows Swing to Tories—Finlayson

Results of the Manitoba election Monday indicated the strong trend towards conservatism, Progressive Conservative Leader Deane Finlayson said today.

He was cheered by the fact that PC's in Manitoba doubled their support, although at the time they had captured only nine ridings and were leading in three others.

The Liberal-Progressive party has been returned to power on the strength of winning 24 seats. The party was leading in six others.

Here is Mr. Finlayson's full statement:

"The people of Manitoba obviously are not attracted to splinter parties. They voted overwhelmingly for the traditional parties.

"The more than double increase in votes cast for Conservative candidates indicates the strong trend to Conservatism, even though the Liberal government was re-elected.

"I'm anticipating a similar trend to the Conservative party in this province in today's voting."

Meanwhile, Victoria Liberal Association received a telegram from H. R. Veals, past president of the Manitoba Liberal Associations, reporting the party's success in the election there and expressing best wishes for Liberal success in B.C.

Mr. Veals said most Social Credit candidates in Manitoba will lose their deposits. (In B.C. no deposits are required from candidates).

Picket Warns of Ditch Danger

Don't play near this ditch, Bruce Law, a picket for the Saanich Municipal Employees' Association, warns four-year-old Wayne O'Neil. The ditch on Gorge Road is full of sewage water and is over five feet deep. There are several other ditches like this one in the district. They have become a danger to children and a menace to public health. (Times Photo.)

Arena Maintenance Staff Will Hold Strike Ballot

A strike vote will be taken at Memorial Arena Wednesday, from 4 to 4.30 p.m., among five engineers and maintenance men.

This action is the latest in negotiations that began last November between the Arena commission and International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 918 (TLC), which represents the men.

The union accepted a conciliation board majority recommendation to grant a pay increase of 4½ cents per hour, although the original demand was for a 25-cent increase.

The recommendation was rejected by the arena commission.

Ed Callan, union business agent, said a strike at the arena would affect special showings in the building. Whether it would hinder the regular lacrosse schedule is not yet clear.

The conciliation board, consisting of R. T. Brindle, chairman, H. E. Botterell, employer's nominee, and H. Berger, union nominee, was unanimous in all its recommendations except that respecting wages.

They included granting of two additional statutory holidays, three weeks' annual paid vacation after 10 years of service, and the option to employees to take one and one-half days' extra annual vacation in lieu of another holiday with straight pay for each statutory holiday worked.

ARTILLERYMEN IN SUNSET PARADE

Men of the 5th B.C. Coast Regiment will stage tonight's sunset ceremony in front of the Legislative Buildings.

The troops are scheduled to parade to the buildings at 8.[illegible] with the flag lowering at 9.

Sewage Flood Held Danger to Saanich

Nauseous Five-Foot-Deep Ditches Threat to Health, Officials Fear

Five feet of nauseous sewage lies in open ditches along Gorge Road today, a menace, according to Saanich municipal authorities, to life and health in the municipality.

Officials say this is one result of the strike of 150 Saanich municipal employees, whose wage demands were refused by Saanich council.

Because the ditches run through a well-settled residential area they are considered a serious danger to small children who might tumble through the guard rails. And they are thought to be a possible source of disease.

The ditches were being dug for the $2,500,000 Saanich sewage project between Gorge View and Dysart Streets. Then the strike started and the ditches were left incompleted with no outlet for runoff.

The ditches soon began to fill with sewage from surrounding homes.

PICKETS WATCHFUL

Union pickets keep a watch for children but there is always danger of an accident.

Health officials are concerned with the menace to public health.

The water is stagnant, and with the warm weather coming on, they fear that the ditches may become a source of infectious diseases.

Meanwhile, there appears to be no possible way of cleaning the ditches until the strike is over.

Strikers and council have shown no sign of arriving at an agreement.

BUMPER BALLOT

June 12 contest last year, has nominated a full slate, as have the Liberals.

The CCF has 47 candidates; Progressive Conservative 39; Labor Progressive Party (Communists) 26, and Christian Democrat, 14. The remainder is made up of Labor and Independent candidates.

When the House dissolved March 29, Social Credit held 19 seats, CCF 18, Liberals 6, PC's 2, and Independent Labor 1. Two were vacant.

Meanwhile, leaders of B.C.'s four major parties have settled down in their home ridings to await the decision of the electorate.

ALL OPTIMISTIC

All have predicted victory except the Progressive Conservatives.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett is at his home in Kelowna, CCF Leader Arnold Webster is in Vancouver at his principal's desk at Magee High School, Liberal Leader Arthur Laing is at his Point Grey residence, and PC Leader Deane Finlayson is in Oak Bay.

They are all trying to relax after a bitter six-week campaign which closed with court actions pending.

The legal activity arose when Dr. W. N. Kemp charged at a public meeting that John Perdue, B.C. Social Credit League president, had a criminal record.

The bitter feud resulted in both men taking court action on grounds of libel and slander.

BALLOT FAMILIAR

Election workers reported voters coping well with their second experience with B.C.'s alternative voting system. In Victoria, poll clerks said very few questions were being asked about the method of voting.

"They all seem to know how to mark their ballots," said one poll clerk. "Whether or not they'll use the system to its fullest extent, of course, is another matter."

Plumping is a phase of the voting which will be closely watched tonight. CCF voters, in particular, are expected to do considerable plumping.

Counting of second and subsequent choice votes will not start until June 30 because of the alternative voting system. This time lag is needed to allow absentee votes to be returned to their home ridings so first counts can be completed.

MISS LIVINGSTON

VON Planning B.C. Expansion Director Says

British Columbia has the best available Victorian Order of Nurses coverage of any province in Canada, and further expansion of the service is planned.

Miss Christine Livington, director-in-chief of VON for Canada, made this disclosure here today in the course of a transcontinental tour.

At Nanaimo, Friday, the Local Council of Women will discuss establishment of the order there.

A unit in Nanaimo would add materially to the 57 per cent of B.C. persons to whom VON services are now available.

"There are more opportunities for expansion than we can meet," Miss Livingston explained. "We just haven't the nurses. But to assist recruiting we are now offering scholarships to graduate registered nurses to assist them in post-graduate training in public health.

"There will be 50 nurses leaving Canadian universities this year who have completed these courses and they will be available in the 113 branches across Canada," she said.

VON is supported by provincial grant on a basis of the number of nurses employed; by municipal grant; by patient payment, where it is possible; and by the Community Chest.

"Finances are always a problem," Miss Livingston said.

Strikers Meet On New Offer To Council

The strike committee of the Saanich Municipal Employees' Association met today to discuss new wage offers to end the 14-day strike of some 150 municipal employees.

The new offers will be submitted to the municipal council this week if Reeve Joseph Casey is in favor of calling a meeting, a spokesman for the association said.

At present both parties are in complete disagreement over wages to be paid to municipal employees. The association is seeking to increase the wages of laborers from $1.24½ to $1.40 an hour, and to adjust the wages of specialized workers.

The council has turned down the union's request, but has offered to pay day laborers $1.31¼ an hour.

City Youth Admits Attempted Theft

Caught in the act of trying to steal a car radio, Gerald Stephen Adamus, 18, of 1117 Johnson, pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of attempted theft.

He was remanded to Thursday for sentence by Magistrate H. C. Hall, who asked for a probation officer's report.

Constable William Mayzes told the court he went to Bernie Nicholls' car sales lot at 945 Yates at 11.25 p.m. Monday and caught Adamus trying to unfasten a radio in one of the cars. Court was shown two wrenches, a screwdriver and a small bar Adamus was using.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Is there an animal called the wisent?—W.L.

A.—The wisent was the European bison, a cousin of the North American buffalo. Gradually exterminated by hunters, the last wisent is said to have been shot in Poland in 1921, though a few survived in captivity.

Q.—Who was Nancy Hanks? There is a street in Victoria named for her.—T.T.

A.—She was the mother of Abraham Lincoln. As Lincoln had only about a year's regular schooling, it was she who taught him to read, thus starting him on the career that led to his world-recognized greatness.

Well-Known Trio to Teach Summer Art Classes

A schedule of summer art classes for adults was announced today by the Greater Victoria Arts Centre. They will be held from the second week in July to late in August.

Three well-known figures in Canadian art circles will conduct the classes: Dave Anderson, Jack Shadbolt and Jan Zach. Each instructor will accept 12 students for a six-week course, specializing in landscape work.

Cost of the course will be $12. Due to the nature of the training, classes will be held for the most part during the day, with arrangements being made to take the students to famed lower Island beauty spots.

Arts Centre curator Colin Graham, who made the announcement, stressed the fact the courses will embrace every category of painter from the rank amateur or beginner to the advanced student. If there are enough applicants evening classes will be considered.

Mr. Anderson has an extensive record of study behind him, is often described as the most completely trained artist in Canada. Jack Shadbolt is one of Canada's leading painters, while Mr. Zach's background is international. Many of his works hang in European and South American galleries.

Mr. Graham also announced the annual non-jury show of local and lower Island artists is set for June 16. There will be two prizes for best entries and judging will be done by popular vote of Arts Centre visitors.

Entry forms for the non-jury exhibition may be obtained from the Arts Centre and must be submitted before 5 p.m., Saturday, June 13.

Entries to the show may include oils, water colors, Gouache, egg tempera and pastels.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Way to Trace Hormones May Add New Knowledge

The discovery of the atom and the hydrogen bombs has struck fear to the heart of mankind. However, Dr. Edward L. Bortz says, "The development of tracer techniques is a method for scientific advancement of importance equal to that of the discovery of the microscope and the germ theory of disease. The use of radio-active tracers in studying the particular destinies of foodstuffs, the specialized assignments of hormones, and the therapeutic actions of drugs, may completely revolutionize current understanding of body function, growth and development."

Is it not an amazing idea that radio-active isotopes may illuminate the paths of these various substances as they pass through the body and are used by it? These are similar to millions of tiny neon lights. If these tracer substances are attached to hormones, for instance, they can be followed through the body, thus throwing light on the workings of our glandular systems. Wonders will never cease!

Dr. Bortz also said, "With the knowledge available today, probably half of the illnesses of our people are preventable. Furthermore, [illegible] able for preserving life would be utilized in planning individual and family life, many of our citizens would reach the century mark. The utilization of known facts concerning nutrition, the importance of avoiding prolonged exhaustion, the importance of sanitation and recreational pursuit, represent only a few of the benefits which are neglected for the most part today."

What an exciting statement! While the knowledge of science will continually and rapidly expand in the future, it is here today—namely, enough already proven knowledge to be of the greatest aid to everyday men and women.

Recreation is listed as one of the health benefits neglected today.

It is sad that so few of them take advantage of it. It is certainly true that the health of the future lies in the research laboratories of today!

Over-Generous Man Can Bankrupt His Family

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Generosity is a very commendable trait. But when it is carried to an extreme it can work great hardship not only on the generous one but on his family. That is what this wife is discovering.

Hurlock

(Q) "Although my husband is a good provider, he is always co-signing loans for people and ending up by paying them. This has occurred three times in the past three years. Although I'm thrifty, almost frugal, we get practically nowhere financially. But he doesn't seem to learn. The last time it happened I warned him I would seek a divorce if he did it again. Quite recently he borrowed a large sum of money and yet has nothing to show for it. He also refused to tell me what he did with it. Consequently I'm very suspicious. I don't want a divorce for my child's sake but going through these emotional strains is leaving its mark on me. Do you think there is any way my husband can be straightened out?"

(A) Go to your pastor and tell him of your husband's generosity and how it is affecting you and your home. He will be in a far better position to tell your husband how unwise his behavior is.

Naturally, one wants to help a friend in distress but co-signing a note for him is going beyond reasonable help. When a person needs a co-signer, it means his credit is not adequate to get the money alone.

Very many, but not all who ask a friend to co-sign a note are financially irresponsible. They do not mean to make their friends suffer financial losses but they leave them holding the bag as your husband has done.

For the sake of his family your husband must have a responsible person impress upon him the importance of learning to say "no" when a friend asks for help. If he had only himself to think of it would be a different story. But it is not fair to let his family suffer for the sake of an outsider and this is what he must be told by the right person.

Dr. Hurlock will help you with family problems. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Esquimalt Couple Wed At Saturday Ceremony

St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church was the scene, Saturday evening, of a ceremony uniting in marriage Gwendolyn May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Ross, 1411 Esquimalt Road, and John David Fawcett, 512 Constance Avenue, son of Mrs. H. Udey, Lamont, Alta., and D. E. Fawcett, Saskatoon, Sask. Pink and white gladioli were used to decorate the church and wedding music was played by the organist, T. R. Myers. Rev. J. A. Roberts officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of net and lace over white satin. The strapless lace bodice was dotted with rhinestones and worn with a bolero jacket of net, the pointed collar and cuffs on the three-quarter sleeves being of lace. A tiara of lace, seed pearls and rhinestones held the finger-tip veil and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses, lily of the valley and white carnations and wore the groom's gift, a pearl necklace.

Her only attendant was Miss Betty Lyttle, wearing a blue nylon net gown trimmed with white daisies and featuring a matching cape. Her headdress was of blue net and pink rosebuds and her colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations. The bride's brother, Bill Ross, was best man and F. Boldt was usher.

Mrs. Rose and Mrs. Udey assisted in receiving guests at a reception held at Olde England Inn. Mrs. Ross wore a navy blue crepe afternoon dress and navy straw hat with pink trim and a corsage of pink carnations, and Mrs. Udey was in pink nylon, street length, with mauve straw hat and mauve accessories. Her corsage was white carnations. A cake decorated with anchors in honor of the groom was topped and surrounded with fresh pink rosebuds. E. Watson proposed toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon in the States, Mrs. Fawcett traveled in a pink and grey check suit with pink topcoat and navy blue accessories, and wore a corsage of white gardenia and pink feathered carnations. Upon return Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett will make their home at 512 Constance Avenue.

Frank Hobbs—W. R. Foster will give a talk on plant diseases, as related to human diseases at final meeting of the season of Frank Hobbs School PTA on Wednesday at 8. He will illustrate his lecture with slides.

Old-Time Gowns in Tableau At St. Michael's Open House

On June 16 the congregation of St. Michael's and All Angels Church, Royal Oak, will hold open house with a garden party and social evening on the rectory grounds, as part of the 70th anniversary celebrations. A local band will play during the evening and the ladies of the church will serve refreshments.

One of the main attractions will be a tableau, sponsored by St. Michael's players, presenting an old-time wedding party of the 1880's, gay with old-fashioned gowns—loaned by members of the congregation. Attics and old chests have given up their treasures for this occasion and excitement is running high among parishioners, both old and young, who have been chosen to portray this event of 70 years ago.

In the parish hall there will be an exhibit of many old-time items of interest loaned by some of the older residents' families of the Royal Oak district. Among these is a rare old prayer book dug out of the storehouse of St. Michael's treasures, a striking and beautiful example of the printers' and bookbinders' art 100 years ago. This large prayer book was in use when Queen Victoria first came to the throne and contained many prayers no longer in use, but which brings the march of history vividly to mind in this our Coronation year. One of these prayers is a "Thanksgiving for the Safety of King James I on the occasion of the Gunpowder Plot," another for "Thanksgiving for the Arrival this day of William of Orange," and for the "Restoration of Peace after the Cromwell Rebellion."

The book was in regular use in the early days of St. Michael's and is still in excellent condition.

Other items of interest will highlight the evening, which will be free to all from 7.30 to 9.30 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

New Zealand Woman Finds Much Against Present Welfare State

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—After four years in office, New Zealand's minister of social welfare, Mrs. Hilda Ross, has formed some decided views on the welfare state.

New Zealand was a pioneer of this conception and built up one of the most complete social security structures during 14 years of Labor rule before the present National party government came to office.

The present government has maintained and even extended the system, but Mrs. Ross thinks some aspects of it are open to criticism.

Here are some points she made in a luncheon address to women:

Too many people well able to help themselves are getting help from the welfare state. The government should not be father and mother to the community. It should concentrate on giving the utmost possible assistance to those who can't help themselves.

"I almost admire a man who buys a bottle of beer. At least he pays for it and drinks it. But people who avail themselves of free medicine often pour most of the bottle's contents down the sink.

"I'll probably get my neck chopped off for this, but I wish we had never heard of state houses (government houses rented to tenants in New Zealand). At present people are not saving and building, but are applying for state houses, then sitting back and waiting."

Here are some other conclusions reached by New Zealand's only woman minister during her time in office:

"The more you say, the more you're heard — and the bigger nuisance you make of yourself the more you might get.

"When I read in the paper that you can buy Jimmy's trousers for sixpense a week, I get mad. Jimmy will have the seat out of them before they're paid for."

To Honor Miss Kennedy

Friends of Miss Ethel Kennedy, who is retiring from service as janitress of Victoria West School at the end of June, are planning a "Miss Kennedy Night" in her honor to be held in the school auditorium on the evening of June 26. A member of a pioneer Victoria West family, Miss Kennedy attended the original Victoria West School as a girl and when her mother, Mrs. "Ma" Kennedy retired in 1939 as janitress of the school, after 30 years' service, she took over. Now she is the second generation of her family to retire from service at the school. Further information about the "Miss Kennedy Night" may be obtained by telephoning E 3045, E 3173 or E 2344. All Victoria West School pupils, past and present, and friends may attend.

BRIDGE LESSON

By Oswald Jacoby

The average player attaches no great importance to the particular card that partner leads back in the suit of the original lead. To the expert, however, the exact spot is of the greatest importance.

In today's hand West opened the three of clubs, East put up the queen, and South won immediately with the ace. South could count eight fast tricks and decided to make the opponents sweat a bit on the long diamonds.

As declarer rattled off his diamond tricks, East chose the three o fhearts as his first discard. On the fourth diamond West very properly discarded a spade on the theory that the defense was hopeless unless his partner had high spades.

Dummy discarded the seven of clubs and East discarded the four of hearts. South cheerfully continued with his last diamond, and all hands discarded low spades.

South had been hoping to see a club discard or two, and was disappointed that the defenders had managed to stay out of trouble. He led a spade at this point since there was no other reasonable play for a ninth trick. East won with the king of spades and returned the nine of clubs.

The nine of clubs was the all-revealing spot card. East would have returned a low club (his original fourth best) if he had originally held four or more clubs. The fact that East returned the nine of clubs rather than a low club made it clear that East had not started with as many as four cards in the suit.

South put up the jack of clubs, and West won with the king. West didn't make the mistake of cashing the ten of clubs, since he knew that South still had two clubs.

Instead, West got out safely by leading a heart. South won with the ace of hearts and led another spade, but East took the ace of spades and returned his last club. This gave West two club tricks with his ten and six of clubs to set the contract.

If West had prematurely cashed the ten of clubs, he would have set up declarer's eight of clubs for the ninth trick.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

Radio times and programs are furnished by stations and networks and are subject to last minute changes. The Times assumes no responsibility for inaccurate listings.

BY RAY SIDAWAY

Top-ranking golfers Cary Middlecoff and Lloyd Mangrum will surprise a contestant on tonight's "People Are Funny" program, if they know all the answers to a golf quiz when the show is heard on KIRO at 8.

Emcee Art Linkletter explains that the loser in the quiz will have a ball driven from his nose by Middlecoff.

Attractive film actress Phyllis Thaxter joins Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis in a pitiful tale of a paroled convict on the comics' show tonight on KOMO at 10.

Dean sings three songs, "Twice as Much," "A Girl Named Mary and a Boy Named Bill" and "The Nearness of You."

Cheques totalling over $1,000 are on their way to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund, the United Jewish Welfare Fund and St. Boniface School in Banning, Calif. . . . all because a contestant on Groucho Marx's "You Bet Your Life" show went broke.

The contestant, George Lewis, a manufacturer, told Groucho he intended to match his winnings with his own money and present the total amount to charity.

However, Lewis failed to win a cent, so various friends and listeners decided to help him fulfill his promise by mailing him their own donations to charity.

Most people by now have heard of a marine corporal breaking the trans-continental bicycle record. But how many know that he was forced into doing it by a master showman?

Donald Mainland was a contestant on Ralph Edwards' "Truth or Consequences" a couple of weeks ago. It was his chore that he ride a bicycle across the country.

But Mainland, by riding from early in the morning until late at night, pedalled into New York 14 days 11 hours and 50 minutes out of Santa Monica, Calif., to clip some five days off the old record of 20 days and seven hours, set in 1949 by Eugene McPherson. The official record will not go down in the books, however, for about two or three weeks, until officials of Amateur Bicycle League check all particulars.

TONIGHT'S HIGHLIGHTS: Novelty program: Larry Henderson takes listeners on an imaginary trip through Belgium and Luxembourg on "Europe 1953" on CBU at 6.30 . . . Special feature: Election results will be heard on CKDA starting at 8.30 tonight, when staff members from the local station and this newspaper's political analysts broadcast from The Times newsroom.

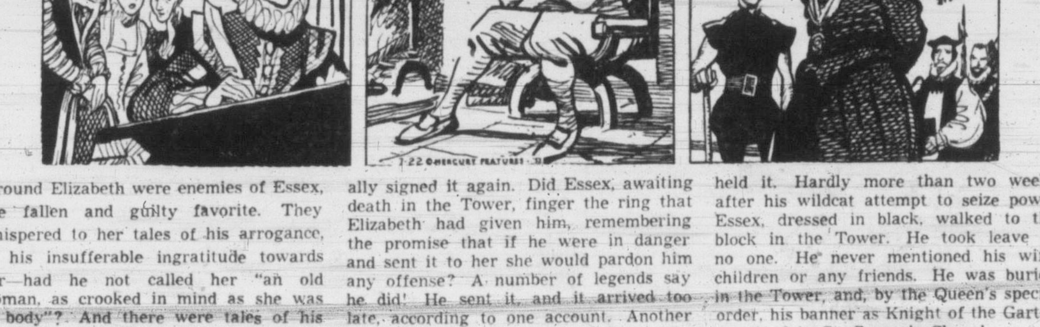
AN AGE OF GREATNESS

No. 133—The Ring



Around Elizabeth were enemies of Essex, the fallen and guilty favorite. They whispered to her tales of his arrogance, of his insufferable ingratitude towards her—had he not called her "an old woman, as crooked in mind as she was in body"? And there were tales of his profligacy, too! Elizabeth signed the warrant, repented and recalled it—and finally signed it again. Did Essex, awaiting death in the Tower, finger the ring that Elizabeth had given him, remembering the promise that if he were in danger and sent it to her she would pardon him any offense? A number of legends say he did! He sent it, and it arrived too late, according to one account. Another says, it fell into the hands of his enemy, the Countess of Nottingham, who withheld it. Hardly more than two weeks after his wildcat attempt to seize power Essex, dressed in black, walked to the block in the Tower. He took leave of no one. He never mentioned his wife, children or any friends. He was buried in the Tower, and, by the Queen's special order, his banner as Knight of the Garter remained in St. George's Chapel.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 10, 1953

Aries (March 21 to April 19)—This is a day to get out and visit everyone who might possibly make your dreams a reality. Correspond with those too far away to see.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20)—Expand your consciousness, realizing that through your own intelligent activity you can add to your income. Budget finances prudently.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)—Your feeling of well-being is apparent to all. Do not conceal your exultation, for it attracts those who will aid you in your goals.

Cancer (June 22 to July 21)—Study all information that comes to you, either verbally or through confidential reports, which can help you correct any mistakes or flaws in your present mode of existence.

Leo (July 22 to August 21)—You would like to show associates your appreciation for the way they are helping you favors and let them see how you feel.

Virgo (August 22 to September 22)—Discussions with influential personages and careful study of where your present attitude is taking you shows you ways to manage your affairs, handle problems efficiently.

Libra (September 23 to October 22)—Opportunity to secure important information presents itself. Get away from old paths; welcome new persons in your life. Learn by listening to their experiences.

Scorpio (October 23 to November 21) — Having wound up arrangements regarding future procedures with colleagues, get down to the practical and consider income and outlay of funds for such partnerships.

Sagittarius (November 22 to December 21)—What seems like irrelevant small talk with restless, neurotic individuals actually reveals to you their mental processes and helps you direct energy toward joint success.

Capricorn (December 22 to January 20) — Change of attitude toward duties makes them easier to perform and helps you find short cuts. Work out systematic program to save time for more congenial interests.

Acquarius (January 21 to February 19)—Your mind is a veritable beehive of inspirations that will eventually bear fruit in future happiness and success. Be happy.

Pisces (February 20 to March 20)—A little more attention to conditions at home this morning gives you an idea for increasing harmony among members of household. Be affectionate to close ties.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN WEDNESDAY . . .

A child born Wednesday will have an abundance of varying interests and will be active continually, both mentally and physically. It would be well to train your child early in life to concentrate upon one project at a time and to finish it before going on to something else. Teach him or her that scattering the energies in too many directions at once will result in a "jack of all trades, and master of none."

Let's Look at ALL the Facts

We agree entirely with the suggestion of the Executive Council of the Saanich Municipal Employees' Association, T.L.C., appearing in the Times of June 6, and the Colonist of June 7, "Let's look at the facts," but we say "Let's look at ALL the facts, not at just SOME of the facts."

In their comparison of wages, the Employees submit the scale of only one of the Greater Victoria municipalities, namely, the City of Victoria. Victoria has a large business district which contributes a very considerable portion of the tax levy of the City, whereas Saanich is 95% a residential and farming Municipality. A more just comparison would be with the Municipalities of Oak Bay and Esquimalt.

WE CHALLENGE THE EMPLOYEES TO PUBLISH A COMPARISON OF THE WAGES OFFERED BY THE SAANICH COUNCIL WITH THOSE NOW BEING PAID BY OAK BAY AND ESQUIMALT. BOTH OAK BAY AND ESQUIMALT WAGES FOR LABORERS ARE LOWER THAN THOSE OFFERED BY SAANICH.

The Employees state that Saanich temporary employees are subject to lay-off for inclement weather, over-expenditure of estimates, etc. Is there any Municipality in the Province of B.C. where temporary employees would NOT be subject to lay-off for similar reasons?

In their comparison of Saanich wages with those paid by local contractors, no comparison is made of fringe benefits. WHY? Perhaps it is because the Employees realize the fringe benefits received by Saanich employees considerably exceed those provided by local contractors.

So much for the statement of the Employees. Now for the facts omitted by them.

The Employees requested wage increases for 38 categories this year, including an increase of 20¾ cents per hour for laborers, to $1.45 per hour. (This has been subsequently reduced to $1.40 per hour.) This is the largest single group of employees in the Municipality. In past years the Council has always given increases based on the increase in the cost-of-living index, and has also, from time to time, made adjustments in individual cases where they felt they were warranted. There being no increase in the C.O.L. index this year, the Council felt that no increase in wages was warranted. A Conciliation officer was appointed, and following this, a Conciliation Board was set up. The majority report of the Board recommended increases in only 5 of the 38 categories, as follows:

Carpenters from	$1.24¼ per hr.	to $1.75 per hr.
Truck Drivers	$1.24¼ per hr.	to $1.50 per hr.
Crane Truck Operator	$1.24¼ per hr.	to $1.50 per hr.
Cement Finishers	$1.30 per hr.	to $1.40 per hr.
Bulldozer Operator	$1.24¼ per hr.	to $1.50 per hr.

In connection with the carpenter, it was pointed out by the Council that any employee classified by the Council as a carpenter was already being paid at the rate of $1.75 per hour.

NO INCREASE FOR LABORERS WAS RECOMMENDED IN THE REPORT. The following is an extract from the majority report of the Conciliation Board:

"AS THE PRESENT WAGE SCALE HAS BEEN AGREED TO LAST YEAR, AND AS THE COST OF LIVING IS ACTUALLY FALLING, THERE DOES NOT APPEAR TO BE ANY JUSTIFICATION IN A GENERAL ADVANCE IN THE WAGE SCALE."

In spite of this recommendation of the Board, and in spite of the fact that there has been no increase in the C.O.L. index during the past year nevertheless, the Council made the following offer to the Employees:

(1) Daily laborers to be increased from $1.24¼ per hour to $1.30 (4.62%).
(2) Upward revision in monthly salaries of 3 categories.
(3) An across-the-board increase of 3% for ALL other monthly salaried employees with the exception of one (the Employees withdrew their request in respect of this one).

This offer was rejected by the Employees at a meeting held on May 27, and on May 28, at 9 a.m. the Employees went out on strike.

On June 3, the Council again met with the Employees' representatives and increased their offer for hourly paid laborers to $1.31¼ (5.63%), other hourly rates to be increased on the same percentage, with the other offers (2) and (3) above to remain.

We repeat, we agree with the Employees' suggestion "Let's look at the facts," but we say "Let's look at ALL the facts."

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By EDWIN JORDAN, MD

Medical Opinion Is Divided On Change of Life in Men

A correspondent who signs herself "Puzzled" writes a sad but interesting letter which I shall quote at some length.

"My husband and I are in our early 50's. I have been going through the change of life and am pretty well along except that my nerves are still a problem. This condition is aggravated by my husband's abuse the past few years. He seems to me like a woman going through the change.

"Please tell me if this is making him as he is, as I have been told that a man also experiences a change. He is moody some days and gets peeved over trivial things. He starts arguments, and I find that I can't defend myself or he gets furious at me. I have told him that he needs medical care, but can't get him to go."

It must be almost intolerable living with a man like that. He may be just naturally ornery, but it is possible that his age is also making him worse.

The question of a change of life in men is complicated, and medical opinion is divided as to whether or not there is a rapid decrease in the functioning of the sex glands in men in any way comparable to that which occurs in women. Certainly many men do not have any symptoms at all which can be attributed to it.

Some, however, do show fairly definite physical or emotional changes some time in their 50s. Feelings of tension which are made worse by excitement or fatigue are sometimes described. There is a tendency for excitement to be exaggerated and unfavorable news, arguments, or slight disturbances which would not bother a person ordinarily may cause extreme nervousness.

SEX GLAND FUNCTION

These symptoms, including quarrelsomeness, and possibly difficulty with sleeping, decreased ability to concentrate, mild depression, and the like, are perhaps—but not certainly—associated with decrease in the function of the sex glands.

Authorities have studied the effect of injections of the male hormone—testosterone propionate—in men complaining of such symptoms as those mentioned. The value of this is still doubtful.

As one authority put it, "sex hormones should not be administered to men and women of climacteric (change of life) age with the idea of stimulating increased sexual potency; if this is the object of treatment, disappointment will result in the great majority of instances."

8,307 Cases Received by Cancer Clinic

A total of 8,307 examinations and treatments have been given by the Victoria Cancer Clinic at Royal Jubilee Hospital since its opening a little over one year ago.

During one year of operation, from April 1, 1952, to March 31, 1953, there were 296 patients admitted to the clinic, of whom 250 were found to be suffering from cancer.

Most of those admitted—206—were from Victoria, and the remainder were from elsewhere on Vancouver Island.

In the 12-month period there were 5,934 X-ray treatments given and 35 radium treatments.

There were also 1,221 follow-up examinations.

Meanwhile, the joint conquer cancer campaign of the B.C. Cancer Foundation and Canadian Cancer Society, opened April 20, continues toward its Greater Victoria objective of $25,000.

Funds will be used for actual treatment of the disease, carried on by the foundation, and for educational and research programs conducted by the cancer society.

Donations will be accepted at campaign headquarters in the Black Ball Ferry building, 816 Wharf Street.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

When the gardener comes across a plant which likes to remain undisturbed for a number of years, he is usually quite jubilant. And well he may be. Most herbaceous perennials require either division of the roots or the taking of cuttings every year or so, in order to maintain plants of beauty.

The group which thrives in the same spot anywhere from 10 to 50 years comprises many plants and should be more widely cultivated. They deserve either the whole of a small garden to themselves, or a section of a large garden where they may increase yearly in size and attractiveness.

Hilda

Since there will be no opportunity for improving the lower area of soil after planting, it should be thoroughly conditioned with sand, peat moss, or other moisture retaining humus as may be necessary. Remove all weed roots and large stones. When fall planting is done, mix in a handful of bonemeal with the soil at the bottom of each hole. Later, fertilizer may be applied to individual plants at suitable times.

The mention of a few of the hardy, long-lived perennials which grow well here in Victoria will suggest others to the reader. The first to come to mind is the Peony, in all its many beautiful forms and colors. The fact that it takes from two to three years to make a show of bloom, is amply offset by the long years of superb display which follow.

An unusual addition to this "longevity garden," as we might name it, would be Bocconia cordata, sometimes known as the plume poppy. Although of the Poppy family, there is no resemblance to a poppy, for the plant bears feathery sprays of small petalless flowers of a pleasing blush-tan, held high above large grayish green lobed leaves. The finest plant I have ever seen was in a neglected garden in downtown Vancouver.

Another member of the Poppy family which thrives when left undisturbed is Romneya coulteri, variously called California tree poppy, Canyon poppy, or Matilija poppy. This is found in many old gardens here, for it is slow to make itself a home. When once established it likes space, and repays with quantities of enormous white blooms. These have a crinkly, silky texture, and are centred with yellow stamens.

The average ocean cargo ship now travels at 14 knots an hour compared with 10 before the last war.

British Prestige Said Rising

LONDON (CP) Has Britain assumed Western leadership in the cold war?

Many Britons think so.

During the Coronation and its attendant festivities, both before and after, London enjoyed a renaissance as the centre of the world attention. Now, in the afterglow of that celebration, many observers say Britain is still being regarded as a leader in things other than how to stage a pageant.

Those who hold this view say that Britain's government, with Sir Winston Churchill leading the way, has more or less taken over the initiative in world diplomacy from Washington. Consider two typical newspaper headlines Monday:

"Britain's stock is rising," says the Conservative Evening News. The Liberal News Chronicle goes further: "Britain's on top again."

With congratulations from scores of countries on the Coronation show ringing in their ears, most Britons probably are ready to accept this view.

The main reason, as reflected in published commentaries here, appears to be disappointment with the leadership of President Eisenhower. For years, Britons were used to the internationalism of Presidents Roosevelt and Truman. They feel Eisenhower has not provided the same international leadership because he is hampered by Republican right-wingers.

Without exception, British newspapers and periodicals are sharply critical of Sen. Joseph McCarthy.

Observers here hold that because of McCarthy and his cohorts, the United States has been slow to suggest concrete steps for an easing of the cold war.

Thus Harold Walton, foreign editor of The Evening News, writes: "His (Churchill's) call for high-level talks with the Russians to thresh out all the problems which have bedevilled the world these post-war years has given new hope and a new direction to all the people of Europe. And, more than that, it has given Britain once again the lead in international affairs."

Vernon Bartlett, writing in The News Chronicle, says: "If the president will not lead, then he (Churchill) must do so. No European democrat can rally behind McCarthy; every American democrat . . . could rally behind Churchill."

WIFE OF GEN. DEAN VOICES THANKS; PRAYERS ANSWERED

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP)—Mrs. Mildred Dean, wife of Maj.-Gen. William F. Dean, said today that the Panmunjom prisoner exchange agreement comes "as an answer to the prayers of the wives, mothers and sweethearts of American prisoners."

"I'm very, very happy," she said in an emotion-choked voice. "Now all that we all can do is wait for a truce, which I hope will be soon.

"I know that all the wives, mothers and sweethearts will not mind if I speak for them when I say that our prayers and our faith have been answered," she said.

Gen. Dean, the fighting former commander of the U.S. 24th Infantry Division, has been a prisoner of war since he was captured near Taejon, South Korea, in the early weeks of the conflict. He has since been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for his heroic actions prior to his capture.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN TWISTER AREA

Governor Calls National Guard

FLINT, Mich. (UP) — The death toll mounted to 14 today as eastern Michigan and northwestern Ohio dug out from the wreckage of one of the nation's worst tornado disasters.

Michigan counted 124 dead and Ohio 19, with more bodies being found hourly in both states. Hundreds were injured.

Hardest hit by the series of twisters which buzz-sawed almost without warning through the heavily populated region at dusk Monday was the Beecher metropolitan district immediately north of Flint, where 109 bodies had been recovered.

MARTIAL LAW

Gov. G. Mennen Williams declared martial law in the Flint area and called in the National Guard to assist state and local law officers. The Red Cross sent out an urgent appeal for blood donors.

ONE OF WORST

The death toll already exceeded that of last month's twister at San Angelo and Waco, Tex., where 123 died, and was one of the worst in this country in 50 years. Only three other storms caused greater fatalities—a series of tornadoes in Alabama in 1932 which killed 268, one in March of last year which killed 232 in six southern states, and one in the Higgins, Tex.-Woodward, Okla., area in 1947 which killed 167

More than 1,000 carloads of moviegoers were gathered at the North Flint drive-in theatre when the twister struck just as the first show began.

Many of the deaths occurred there. Hundreds were injured as cars were thrown about like toys.

BADLY DISMEMBERED

By midnight, 97 bodies had been laid in rows at the National Guard armory here, which was pressed into service as an emergency morgue. Some of the bodies were so badly dismembered they were collected in cellophane bags.

National Guardsmen fought to hold back survivors from entering the armory until it could be "cleaned up." Red Cross workers issued smelling salts and set up spare cots to care for survivors overcome with shock on finding their dead.

A smaller twister killed a Highland Park policeman and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Anscheutz, and demolished their woodland cottage near East Tawas, 100 miles north of here. Their two children, Doren, 6, and Dana, 2, were missing. A third unidentified person also was killed near East Tawas.

NO WARNING

Tornadoes usually are preceded by heavy rain and hailstorms, driving people to shelter and keeping casualties at a minimum. But the twisters struck Monday evening with little or no warning.

The U.S. weather bureau had asked radio stations at 4 p.m. to broadcast warnings of "locally severe thunderstorms with high winds and a possibility of hail."

William Davis of Oak Park, Mich., said he saw three cars carried through the air at the same time. Their drivers had taken cover. The twister picked up a huge trailer-truck and shook it like a cat worrying a mouse.

OTTAWA PREDICTS B.C. REACTION

Socred Bid to Become Strong National Party Rated Failure

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Social Credit's strong bid to become a national party was rejected Monday by the Manitoba voters. Failure of the Alberta-born political party to win several seats in the Manitoba election, despite its paid-organizers and high-pressure campaign, was seen here as a shattering blow to Social Credit's hopes to win power across Canada.

Political observers at Ottawa were examing the Manitoba vote with the idea of gauging the extent of the impact Social Credit campaigns will have on the federal voting expected to be held Aug. 10. The Manitoba picture encouraged both Liberals and Progressive conservatives to believe that Social Creditors will not be much of a factor federally.

Date of the federal election is expected to be announced Friday night or Saturday. The federal cabinet will meet all day Friday and expectations are that the date will be decided at that meeting. Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent will go to Government House to confer with the Governor-General. Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey and formally request dissolution of parliament. The date of the election will be publicly announced following dissolution.

The importance the Social Credit party attached to making gains in Manitoba was shown by the fact that both the party's national leader Solon Low and its top-ranking organizer, Rev. E. G. Hansell, took part in the campaign. Mr. Hansell concentrated on Manitoba moving out there as soon as the House of Commons was prorogued. It was Mr. Hansell, a Social Credit MP from Alberta, who played a major part in capturing votes for the party in British Columbia's election last year.

The Social Creditors were well aware of the impact results in Manitoba could have on the British Columbia voting which was taking place Tuesday. It was on the insistence of Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia that Mr. Hansell along with paid organizers of the Social Credit party put on an intensive drive to win seats in Manitoba. The strategy, of course, was to influence events in Manitoba's election and thereby influence the British Columbia voters to climb on the band wagon.

However, the lack of enthusiasm among Manitoba's electorate for the Social Credit party demonstrated by the Manitoba results was expected to have repercussions in the west coast voting. Both old line party organizations at Ottawa were predicting it would react to their favor in the British Columbia ballot battle.

Another feature of the Manitoba results being examined closely in the nation's capital was the showing of the CCF party. Here again it appeared that hopes of the Socialists to gain recognition as a national party were shattered. Political observers in Ottawa were inclined to conclude that the two major political parties in Canada will be able to hold their own in the coming federal fight, with neither the Social Credit nor CCF organizations capable of effectively challenging them on the national political scene.

Campbell Government Wins Re-Election Easily

WINNIPEG (CP) — Manitobans put their Liberal-Progressive government back into office Monday in a provincial election that saw the Social Credit Party crushed in its second bid for power in Manitoba in 17 years.

In a contest that was as quiet as the campaign that preceded it, the electors returned Premier Douglas Campbell's administration with virtually the same majority that it enjoyed in the last legislature, adding another term to the party's 30 years of dominance in Manitoba politics.

Perhaps as significant as the government's victory was the defeat of the Social Credit group, with its possible and imponderable effects on the British Columbia provincial election today and the federal election later this year.

The Social Crediters first tried to gain power in the 1936 general election, but elected only five members, joined in coalition with the government in the early 1940's, elected two in 1945, by-passed the 1949 election and then fielded 42 candidates in this contest.

Latest results from Monday's voting showed this party standing, with the number of ridings in which parties were leading in brackets:

Liberal-Progressives 24 (6); Progressive Conservatives 9 (3); CCF 2 (3); Social Credit — (1); Independents 3 (3); Labor-Progressive Communist — (1).

2 Independents Side With Govt.

Two of the three Independents returned have declared their intention of supporting the government.

The Liberal-Progressives won an acclamation in one riding and the vote was deferred in two others.

The party standing in the 57-member legislature at dissolution April 23 was:

Liberal-Progressives 30; Propressive Conservatives 9; CCF 7; Coalition 5; Independent 1; Labor-Progressive 1; vacant 4; total 57. The five Coalition members supported the government.

The party standing after the last election Nov. 10, 1949 was:

Liberal-Progressives 29; Progressive Conservatives 13; CCF 7; Coalition 5; Independent Liberal 1; Independent Progressive Conservative 1; Labor-Progressive 1.

Constituencies still in doubt election night and requiring a second count under Manitoba's system of the single transferable vote for rural constituencies included Assiniboia, Dauphin, Gilbert Plains, Fairford, Iberville, Minnedosa and Russell.

The vote still was incomplete, though members were elected in Carillon, Emerson, Etherbert, Fisher, Gimli, Killarney, S. Andrew's, St. Clements, St. George, Swan River and The Pas.

Four constituencies in the Winnipeg district, where vote is by proportional representation, returned only four of their quota of 12 members and further counts take place today.

Campbell, Ministers Returned

Premier Campbell, 58-year-old veteran of 30 years in the legislature, and all of his cabinet ministers were returned. One of them, Works Minister Morton, received an acclamation in Gladstone riding nomination day.

For Mr. Campbell, who succeeded to the premiership when Hon. Stuart Garson entered the federal cabinet in 1948, it was his first test at the polls since 1936. He was returned by acclamation in the elections of 1941, 1945 and 1949.

Errick F. Willis, 57, farmer-politician who has led the Progressive Conservatives since the 1930s, also was re-elected in his first contest since 1936. Along with Mr. Campbell, he has been returned unopposed in the intervening years.

The status of Lloyd Stinson, CCF leader, still was uncertain in a tight race in Winnipeg South.

W. J. Tinkler, president of the Manitoba Social Credit League and nominal leader of the Social Credit forces, was defeated in Morris constituency by Harry Shewman, independent member of the last legislature.

Rhee May Fly to U.S. For Parley With Ike

South Korean President Reported Ready To Make Final Appeal Against Armistice

NEW YORK (UP)—A National Broadcasting Company correspondent in Seoul reported today that South Korean President Syngman Rhee plans to make a last-minute appeal to President Eisenhower not to sign a Korean armistice.

Correspondent Jim Robertson said the 78-year-old Rhee plans to fly either to the United States for a personal conference with Mr. Eisenhower or to Tokyo to make the appeal directly through Gen. Mark Clark.

The correspondent gave as his cource a high South Korean official. Robinson said Top Republic of Korea officials are pressing Rhee to make the trip either to Washington or Tokyo.

500,000 PROTEST

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) United Nations and Communist staff officers started drafting a final cease-fire line today, with hope for an early armistice mounting steadily.

The staff officers met for two hours and are expected to meet again Wednesday after the regular session of the truce delegates.

In Seoul, peace time capital of Korea, up to 500,000 weeping, chanting men, women and children surged through the streets protesting against what they called an Allied surrender to the Communists.

A fire hose was turned on one group — spearheaded by school girls—who tried to storm United States Eighth Army headquarters. Many were trampled in the rush to escape.

Maj. Gen. Choi Duk Shin, chief South Korean truce delegate, demanded in a formal letter to Lt.-Gen. William K. Harrison, leader of the UN truce team, that the estimated 1,000,000 Chinese Communist troops in Korea be sent back across the Yalu River as part of an armistice agreement.

South Korean troops jumped off on the eastern front in a major bid to recapture, before the fixing of a cease-fire line, ground they lost to the Communists last week.

Developments in a day which, it was hoped, brought an armistice measurably nearer included:

1.—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman-designate of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff, arrived in Seoul for a two-day visit. Because of the mobs that surged through the street, he traveled from Seoul airport to 8th Army headquarters by helicopter. During his visit Radford will see South Korean President Syngman Rhee.

2.—Despite the tough talk of Rhee, his officers and the South Korean parliament, UN chiefs believed that South Korea will accept the armistice as the Allies propose to sign it, and will make no attempt to upset it later.

It was hoped here that an armistice may be signed within a week or 10 days, with a cease-fire line fixed along the present battle line.

SIX-YEAR-OLD KNOCKED DOWN BY MOTOR CAR

Kenny Simpson, six years old, was knocked down by a car on John Street at 12.30 today and was reported in serious condition.

The little boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson, 425 John Street, was cut about the head and face, police said, and was wavering on consciousness when taken to Jubilee Hospital.

Eye-witnesses said the little boy walked into the street into the path of the car.

"He was knocked down by an automobile only about 18 months ago," one said.

De Gasperi Leading in Italian Vote

ROME, Italy (UP) — Premier Aleide de Gasperi's pro-western alliance of Italian centre parties appeared assured today of a new five-year lease on life.

His coalition already had safely tucked away a 52.4 per cent majority in the Italian senate.

It needed only to rack up more than 50 per cent of the popular vote for the more influential chamber of deputies to be assured of 64 per cent of the seats in that body.

Interior Minister Mario Scelba said tonight "there is no reason to believe the vote for the chamber of deputies will differ greatly from that in the Senate."

While Italy's powerful Communist party was a factor in the elections, it was a combination of ultra-right wing Monarchists and Neo-Fascists that principally threatened De Gasperi's position.

The extreme left appeared to be doing no better than in the 1948 polls.

Churchill Confident of Early Peace

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons today that "nothing ought now to stand in the way of the conclusion of an armistice in Korea except necessary administrative arrangements."

Churchill said he was confident the administrative details "may soon be completed."

"We are satisfied," he added, "that the arrangements now agreed on will ensure that no prisoner of war is repatriated by force."

Churchill went on: "I do not feel that full justice has been done by us here during the last few months to the difficulties to which General Clark and General Harrison were subjected not only by Communist obstinacy but also by the attitude of the South Korean government under Mr. Syngman Rhee."

Sunshine and Intriguing Rivalry Expected to Better 1952 Turn-Out

British Columbia voters, drawn out by sunny skies and an intriguing political situation, today are going to the polls in numbers expected to surpass the 543,456 who turned out last June 12.

It is the second consecutive year that British Columbians have held a general election under ideal weather conditions.

Victoria returning officer Alan Macfarlane, on a tour of the city's 33 polls, reported to the Times:

"There is every indication at this early hour that there will be a heavy turnout of voters. From my observations, the turnout in the early hours is already heavier than last June."

The situation appeared to be similar in Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt.

EARLIER TALLY

Election officials in this area expect to have their first counts completed this time much earlier than last year.

The reason is twofold: Election workers have now had more experience; and this time there will be fewer ballots to count because there are no plebiscites. (Last year there were liquor and daylight-saving.)

In Victoria, where more than 26,000 are expected to vote, officials are aiming to complete the first count by midnight. Last year it was 3 a.m. There are three ballots in the city.

First count totals in the outside municipalities, where each has only one ballot, should be known well before midnight.

RECORD IN RACE

A record 229 candidates are contesting the 48 seats at stake.

MEET DENNIS ON PAGE 4 TODAY

On page 4 today will be found the first "Dennis the Menace" cartoon of a series that will be a regular feature. Dennis the Menace, drawn by Hank Ketcham of Seattle, is rated as the fastest-growing comic panel of the year. It deals with the doings of little Dennis, a mischievous but lovable little character modeled on the real-life son of the Ketchams, and will provide a daily chuckle—with perhaps a memory or two—for every reader.

Vancouver Woman Savagely Beaten

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver woman, Mrs. Jean Berry, was found savagely beaten in a hotel early today.

A man found in the room with her is being held for investigation.

Police, brought to the scene by an anonymous phone call, said the wall of the room was spattered with blood. They said the scene was "the worst" they had ever investigated.

Police said the woman's wedding and engagement rings were found on the person of the man found in the room.

Lack of Cards Confused Voting

WINNIPEG (CP) — Manitobans put their Liberal-Progressive government back into office Monday in a provincial election that saw the Social Credit Party crushed in its second bid for power in Manitoba in 17 years.

In a contest that was as quiet as the campaign that preceded it, the electors returned Premier Douglas Campbell's administration with virtually the same majority that it enjoyed in the last legislature, adding another term to the party's 30 years of dominance in Manitoba politics.

Perhaps as significant as the government's victory was the defeat of the Social Credit group, with its possible and imponderable effects on the British Columbia provincial election today and the federal election later this year.

The Social Crediters first tried to gain power in the 1936 general election, but elected only five members, joined in coalition with the government in the early 1940's, elected two in 1945, by-passed the 1949 election and then fielded 42 candidates in this contest.

Latest results from Monday's voting showed this party standing, with the number of ridings in which parties were leading in brackets:

Liberal-Progressives 24 (6); Progressive Conservatives 9 (3); CCF 2 (3); Social Credit—(1); Independents 3 (3); Labor-Progressive Communist — (1).

Two Independents Side With Govt.

Two of the three Independents returned have declared their intention of supporting the government.

The Liberal-Progressives won an acclamation in one riding and the vote was deferred in two others.

The party standing in the 57-member legislature at dissolution April 23 was:

Liberal-Progressives 30; Progressive Conservatives 9; CCF 7; Coalition 5; Independent 1; Labor-Progressive 1; vacant 4; total 57. The five Coalition members supported the government.

The party standing after the last election Nov. 10, 1949 was:

Liberal-Progressives 29; Progressive Conservatives 13; CCF 7; Coalition 5; Independent Liberal 1; Independent Progressive Conservative 1; Labor-Progressive 1.

Constituencies still in doubt election night and requiring a second count under Manitoba's system of the single transferable vote for rural constituencies included Assiniboia, Dauphin, Gilbert Plains, Fairford, Iberville, Minnedosa and Russell.

The vote still was incomplete, though members were elected, in Carillon, Emerson, Ethelbert, Fisher, Gimli, Killarney, St. Andrew's, St. Clements, St. George, Swan River and The Pas.

Four constituencies in the Winnipeg district, where vote is by proportional representation, returned only four of their quota of 12 members and further counts take place today.

Campbell, Ministers Returned

Premier Campbell, 58-year-old veteran of 30 years in the legislature, and all of his cabinet ministers were returned. One of them, Works Minister Morton, received an acclamation in Gladstone riding nomination day.

The status of Lloyd Stinson, CCF leader, still was uncertain in a tight race in Winnipeg South.

SIX-YEAR-OLD KNOCKED DOWN BY MOTOR CAR

Kenny Simpson, six years old, was knocked down by a car on John Street at 12.30 today and was reported in serious condition.

The little boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson, 425 John Street, was cut about the head and face, police said, and was wavering on consciousness when taken to Jubilee Hospital.

Police said the driver of the car was William B. Scott, 3071 Albany Street, who was reported to be driving west on John Street when the accident occurred.

Eye-witnesses said the little boy walked into the street into the path of the car.

"He was knocked down by an automobile only about 18 months ago," one said.

Uranium Issues Fall Sharply

Weakness in uranium issues sent Vancouver stock exchange prices sharply downward today.

Nesbitt Labine dropped to $1.90, down a dollar from Monday. Rix Athabaska fell 60 cents to close at $1.70. National Exploration was down seven at 46, and Beaver Lodge dropped 10 cents to $1.07.

Also on the downside were Estella, down five at 40, Quatsino down four at 36, Western Tungsten down 19 at $1.91, Silver Standard down two at 88.

Oils showing 10-cent declines were Del Rio 2.50, Central Leduc 2.90, Calmont 1.10 and United $1. New Continental dropped 5 cents to $1.

New Polling Booths Popular

Prefabricated, standardized polling booths, in use for the first time in Victoria, were well accepted today by city voters. Of simple, inexpensive design, they can be used with complete privacy by four persons at once. This picture was taken at Memorial Hall where steady stream of voters kept election workers busy. Rhee May Fly to U.S. For Parley With Ike

South Korean President Reported Ready To Make Final Appeal Against Armistice

NEW YORK (UP)—A National Broadcasting Company correspondent in Seoul reported today that South Korean President Syngman Rhee plans to make a last-minute appeal to President Eisenhower not to sign a Korean armistice.

Correspondent Jim Robertson said the 78-year-old Rhee plans to fly either to the United States for a personal conference with Mr. Eisenhower or to Tokyo to make the appeal directly through Gen. Mark Clark.

The correspondent gave as his source a high South Korean official. Robinson said top Republic of Korea officials are pressing Rhee to make the trip either to Washington or Tokyo.

500,000 PROTEST

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) United Nations and Communist staff officers started drafting a final cease-fire line today, with hope for an early armistice mounting steadily.

The staff officers met for two hours and are expected to meet again Wednesday after the regular session of the truce delegates.

In Seoul, peace time capital of Korea, up to 500,000 weeping, chanting men, women and children surged through the streets protesting against what they called an Allied surrender to the Communists.

A fire hose was turned on one group — spearheaded by school girls—who tried to storm United States Eighth Army headquarters. Many were trampled in the rush to escape.

Maj. Gen. Choi Duk Shin, chief South Korean truce delegate, demanded in a formal letter to Lt.-Gen. William K. Harrison, leader of the UN truce team, that the estimated 1,000,000 Chinese Communist troops in Korea be sent back across the Yalu River as part of an armistice agreement.

Sun, Keen Rivalry May Top 1952 Mark

British Columbia voters, drawn out by sunny skies and an intriguing political situation, today are going to the polls in numbers expected to surpass the 543,456 who turned out last June 12.

It is the second consecutive year that British Columbians have held a general election under ideal weather conditions.

Victoria returning officer Alan Macfarlane, on a tour of the city's 33 polls, reported to the Times:

"There is every indication at this early hour that there will be a heavy turnout of voters. From my observations, the turnout in the early hours is already heavier than last June."

The situation appeared to be similar in Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt.

EARLIER TALLY

Election officials in this area expect to have their first counts completed this time much earlier than last year.

The reason is twofold: Election workers have now had more experience; and this time there will be fewer ballots to count because there are no plebiscites. (Last year there were liquor and daylight-saving.)

In Victoria, where more than 26,000 are expected to vote, officials are aiming to complete the first count by midnight. Last year it was 3 a.m. There are three ballots in the city.

First count totals in the outside municipalities, where each has only one ballot, should be known well before midnight.

143 Victims As Tornadoes Ravage U.S.

Michigan, Ohio Worst Sufferers

FLINT, Mich. (UP) — The death toll mounted to 143 today as eastern Michigan and northwestern Ohio dug out from the wreckage of one of the nation's worst tornado disasters.

Michigan counted 124 dead and Ohio 19, with more bodies being found hourly in both states. Hundreds were injured.

Hardest hit by the series of twisters which buzz-sawed almost without warning through the heavily populated region at dusk Monday was the Beecher metropolitan district immediately north of Flint, where 109 bodies had been recovered.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams declared martial law in the Flint area and called in the National Guard to assist state and local law officers. The Red Cross sent out an urgent appeal for blood donors.

The death toll already exceeded that of last month's twister at San Angelo and Waco, Tex., where 123 died, and was one of the worst in this country in 50 years. Only three other storms caused greater fatalities—a series of tornadoes in Alabama in 1932 which killed 268, one in March of last year which killed 232 in six southern states, and one in the Higgins, Tex.-Woodward, Okla., area in 1947 which killed 167.

Tornadoes usually are preceded by heavy rain and hailstorms, driving people to shelter and keeping casualties at a minimum. But the twisters struck Monday evening with little or no warning.

De Gasperi Leading

OTTAWA PREDICTS B.C. REACTION

Socred Aim to Become Strong National Party Rated Failure

By VICTOR MACKIE
Times Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA—Social Credit's strong bid to become a national party was blasted Monday by the Manitoba voters. Failure of the Alberta-born political party to win several seats in the Manitoba election, despite its paid-organizers and high-pressure campaign, was seen here as a shattering blow to Social Credit's hopes to win power across Canada.

Political observers at Ottawa were examing the Manitoba vote with the idea of gauging the extent of the impact Social Credit campaigns will have on the federal voting expected to be held Aug. 10. The Manitoba picture encouraged both Liberals and Progressive conservatives to believe that Social Creditors will not be much of a factor federally.

Date of the federal election is expected to be announced Friday night or Saturday. The federal cabinet will meet all day Friday and expectations are that the date will be decided at that meeting. Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent will go to Government House to confer with the Governor-General Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey and formally request dissolution of parliament. The date of the election will be publicly announced following dissolution.

The importance the Social Credit party attached to making gains in Manitoba was shown by the fact that both the party's national leader Solon Low and its top-ranking organizer, Rev. E. G. Hansell, took part in the campaign. Mr. Hansell concentrated on Manitoba moving out there as soon as the House of Commons was prorogued. It was Mr. Hansell, a Social Credit MP from Alberta, who played a major part in capturing votes for the party in British Columbia's election last year.

The Social Crediters were well aware of the impact results in Manitoba could have on the British Columbia voting which was taking place Tuesday. It was on the insistence of Premier W. A. C. Bennett of British Columbia that Mr. Hansell along with paid organizers of the Social Credit party put on an intensive drive to win seats in Manitoba. The strategy, of course, was to make a good showing in Manitoba's election and thereby influence the British Columbia voters to climb on the band wagon.

However, the lack of enthusiasm among Manitoba's electorate for the Social Credit party demonstrated by the Manitoba results was expected to have repercussions in the west coast voting. Both old line party organizations at Ottawa were predicting it would react to their favor in the British Columbia ballot battle.

Another feature of the Manitoba results being examined closely in the nation's capital was the showing of the CCF party. Here again it appeared that hopes of the Socialists to gain recognition as a national party were shattered. Political observers in Ottawa were inclined to conclude that the two major political parties in Canada will be able to hold their own in the coming federal fight, with neither the Social Credit nor CCF organizations capable of effectively challenging them on the national political scene.
